

Contents

1. What is Humanist Greek? An Introduction	1
1.1 Humanist Greek Culture	5
1.2 Studies on Humanist Greek and the Terms Used	12
1.3 Research Questions and the Aims of this Study	21
2. Cultivating Greek Writing	27
2.1 The Legacy of Byzantium and Renaissance Italy	27
2.2 Humanist Greek from Germany to Sweden	43
2.3 Introduction to the Turku Greek Corpus	77
3. Perceptions and Uses of Greek Language	117
3.1 Philograeci and Early Modern Philhellenism	119
3.2 Using Greek in Latin and Vernacular Texts	126
3.3 Greek as ancilla fidei	141
3.4 Greek and National Image Making	155
3.5 Citations and Paraphrases in Greek Texts	171
4. Deconstructing Occasional Academic Texts	183
4.1 From Rhetorical Imitation to Plagiarism	186
4.2 Occasional and Epideictic Literature	211
4.3 The Genre of Congratulations for Dissertations	227
4.4 Beginning and Ending an Occasional Text	243
4.5 Baroque Mannerism, Rhetorical Figures and Similes	257
5. Greek in Finland. Three Case Studies	283
5.1 Application Letters in Greek for Scholarship	283
5.2 Functions of Greek Paratexts for a Greek Dissertation	299
5.3 Johan Paulinus' Development as a Greek Poet	320
6. Concluding Reflections. Greek at the Edges of Europe	352
An Elaborate Table of Contents	361
Bibliography	365
Index Nominum	401