

Contents

List of illustrations	viii
Acknowledgements	xii
Introduction: A Mediterranean city, c. 1000–1130	1
Part 1 Byzantine Bari and Canosa
1 Life in Byzantine Bari	9
2 The Byzantine palace: Building Constantinople on the frontier	14
3 Bari cathedral and ‘Lombard’ patronage under Byzantine rule	21
4 Canosa cathedral: ‘Minister with light’, how to be an archbishop	42
Part 2 The Church of San Nicola, Bari
5 The crypt: Enter St Nicholas and the Normans	55
6 A throne of Solomon: Classicism, crusade, slavery	81
7 Architecture: A temple of Solomon	102
8 Portal sculpture: The secular, the sacred and the sacramental	111
9 Elias of Bari: Benedictine, bishop, builder	129
10 Pavements: Adriatic connections underfoot?	137
Part 3 The Tomb of Bohemond I, Prince of Antioch
11 Crusader architecture: Constance of France and her Holy Sepulchre	157
12 Made in Italy: Innovations in bronze	179
13 Inscribing a crusader legacy	194
Conclusion: Connections and retrospection	199
Notes	203
Bibliography	232
Index	263