

Contents

Business and Economy

The Nepali economy will bounce back quick	17
We need more economists	21
Beyond money	25
The economy moves on	29
Let Nepalis invest abroad	33
Dissecting 'bordernomics'	37
Flourishing 'cartelpreneurship'	41
Impose inheritance tax to change politics	45
Reviving tourism	49
Who is stalling reforms?	53
Opportunity to recalibrate tourism	57
Decoding remittances	61
The truth about 'economic crisis'	65
Tourism in the digital era	69
Take a long-term view	73
Preparing for COP 27	77

Culture and Society

Buddhism as a connector	85
What defines a Nepali citizen?	91
Reforming religious institutions	95
Respectable exit	99
The need for public libraries	103
Nepali society and meritocracy	107
This year's Dashain is different	111
Mha Puja as a unifier	115
The globalisation of food	119

Nepal's beauty is eroding	123
Digital nomads	127
Twenty years after the royal massacre	131
Unleashing the potential of Nepali sports	135
Resilient Nepalis	139
Climate change and religion	143
Eating momos in Rwanda	147
Wake up Nepal	151
Re-imagining Nepal's workweek	155
Reflecting on events	159
Message from Nepali voters	163

Geo-politics

The business of foreign affairs	171
Biden inauguration brings changes for Nepal	175
The difference between communism in China and Nepal	179
Towards multimodal connectivity	183
Dubai unleashed	187
Delhi musings	191
How China sees the world	195
American musings	199

Governance and Politics

Get the small things right	207
Social insecurity	213
Building institutions	217
Ensuring government service delivery	221
Cronyism in Nepali politics	225
Divisive politics	229

Back to the eighties	233
Towards voting reform	237
Rekindling hope	241
Will Nepal vote for change?	245
Upholding the rule of law	249
Of passports and driving licence	253

Leadership

Internalising change	261
Call for change	265
Change begins at home	269
Deep reflection	273
How not to manage a crisis	277
Embrace change	281
Making digital transformation work	285
Transformations to be appreciated	289

Musings and Reflections

What we can learn from Covid-19	297
Lockdown Musings	301
Travelling during the pandemic	305
The response to the pandemic will further isolate Nepal	309
What will 2021 have for Nepal?	313
Travelling is not the same	317
Hello, 2022	321
Sikkim revisited	325