

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
List of Abbreviations	xii
Introduction	1
PART ONE: THE HISTORIOGRAPHICAL TRADITION
Luke-Acts as Apologetic Historiography	11
1. Interpretatio Christiana Constructing Christian Identity from a Jewish Historiographical Tradition	13
2. “The Reliable History of Antiquity” The Tradition of Writing History in the East	43
3. The First History The Literary Relationship between Luke and Acts	61
PART TWO: THE CONNECTION TO THE PAST
The Story of Israel in Luke-Acts	87
4. Imitatio Septuaginta The LXX as a Historiographical Model	89
5. “Opening the Scriptures” The Legitimation of the Jewish Diaspora and the Early Christian Mission	108

CONTENTS

6.	“Do You Understand What You Are Reading?” The Understanding of the LXX in Luke-Acts	138
PART THREE: LOOKING TO THE FUTURE
	The Greco-Roman World in Luke-Acts	159
7.	Mors philosophi The Death of Jesus in Luke	161
8.	“Athletes of Virtue” The Major Summaries of the Jerusalem Community in Acts	187
9.	“Customs That Are Not Lawful” The Social Apology of Luke-Acts	211
	Conclusions	229
	Bibliography	235
	Index of Authors	265
	Index of Subjects	271
	Index of Scripture and Other Ancient Sources	275