

“I can think of no better guide to the Christian mystical tradition than Fr. Harvey Egan, SJ. Learned, prayerful, articulate, inviting and always accessible, he is among the best of teachers.”

—James Martin, SJ, author of Jesus: A Pilgrimage

“Father Harvey J. Egan, SJ, is one of the premier interpreters of the mystical tradition on the current scene. Well known for his many insightful studies of the mysticism of St. Ignatius of Loyola, Fr. Egan has also written on the broad history of Christian mysticism, including his impressive Anthology of Christian Mysticism.”

—Bernard McGinn, University of Chicago

“Let Fr. Harvey Egan, a master not only of Fr. Rahner’s spirituality but also of spirituality itself, take you to this center of his life and theology and then on to its wonderful whole wide range.”

—Leo J. O’Donovan, SJ, President Emeritus, Georgetown University

“Harvey Egan’s vast knowledge of the Christian mystical tradition is impressive. Few scholars have matched the clarity of the way he introduces persons and highlights what is important in their writings. His assessments of mystics’ views are always both sympathetic to them and judiciously critical of them. A great guide!”

—Louis Roy, OP, Dominican University College, Ottawa

“Egan is that rare scholar who brings a critically important third dimension to his exposition of Rahner’s thought: depth, clarity, coherence, integrity.”

—David G. Schultenover, SJ, Marquette University
