

Contents

List of contributors	xi
Acknowledgments	xix
1 Reframing women's victimisation: challenges and possibilities	1
MARÍA JOSÉ GÁMEZ FUENTES, SONIA NÚÑEZ PUENTE AND EMMA GÓMEZ NICOLAU
PART I
Politics	9
2 Women survivors of sexist abuse in Spain: the role of affects of proximity and recognition on the way out	11
CRISTINA PEÑAMARÍN AND DIANA FERNÁNDEZ ROMERO
3 The 'comfort women' apologies: gendered victimhood and the politics of grievability	26
EMMA DOLAN
4 Gender, agency and the construction of a rape victim: the ICTY and the prosecution of sexual violence in Bosnia-Herzegovina	39
LOUIS TOZER
5 Women's resistance in violent settings: infrapolitical strategies in Brazil and Colombia	53
ANNE-MARIE VEILLETTE AND PRISCYLL ANCTIL AVOINE
6 Towards transformative gender equality: the importance of addressing economic violence against women in Cambodia	68
OLGA JURASZ AND NATALIA SZABLEWSKA

PART II

Activism 83

- 7 Feminist and grassroots activism rewriting women as victims: Kenyan women's untold story 85
WANJIKU MUKABI KABIRA AND LANOI MALOIY

- 8 Collective action and organisation against gender violence in Spain: when victims became activists 98
MARIA MARTINEZ

- 9 Transnational feminist activism to reframe femicide: the case of #NiUnaMenos and #VivasNosQueremos 112
VIRGINIA VILLAPLANA RUIZ

- 10 Materialising resistance against rape culture online: the phenomenon of SlutWalks 124
JESSIE A. BUSTILLOS MORALES

- 11 Mukhtaran Mai's transformation from gang-rape victim to the feminist face of glamour: transcending notions of tribal honour, gender and class in Pakistan 136
RAHAT IMRAN

PART III

Cultural narratives 151

- 12 'Pump up the positivity': neoliberalism, affective entrepreneurship and the victimhood/agency debate 153
LAURA FAVARO AND ROSALIND GILL

- 13 Radical vulnerability: feminism, victimhood and agency 167
SARAH BANET-WEISER

- 14 Rethinking the victim in Zoë Morrison's Music and Freedom (2016) 181
SUE KOSSEW

15 Survivor speech: formulations of the victim/survivor identity in contemporary UK media	194
ELENA DE SACCO
16 Rape victims, representation and resistance in India: between collectivity and solitariness	210
NANDANA DUTTA
Index	223

Priscill Ansel-Avator is a PhD candidate in Political Science and Feminist Studies at Université du Québec à Montréal (Canada) for which she received the prestigious Vanier Scholarship. She completed an MA in Peace, Conflict and Development Studies from Université Laval (Québec) and a BA in International Studies from Université Laval (Canada). Her research interests are focused on the reintegration of women combatants, gender and peacebuilding as well as feminist security studies. She is currently conducting her PhD research project on emplacement and mobility in the post-displacement advocacy of female ex-combatant in Colombia. She recently co-edited an article, "Moogym in 'post-war' Afghanistan: the changing frames of sexual and gender-based violence," Journal of Gender Studies (2018) and a book chapter, "From Polytechnic of Violence to the Complexities of Peace: Towards an Integral Dialogue in Colombia" (Palgrave MacMillan, 2017). She is active involved in the NGO Fundación Laveo promoting feminist and decolonial theories towards peacebuilding.

Julia Bender-Waller is Professor and Head of Department in the Media and Communications Department of the London School of Economics and Political Science. She is the author of The Most Beautiful Girl in the World: Beauty, Fame and National Identity (1999), Kids Rule! Nickelodeon and Consumer Citizenship (2007), Authenticity: The Politics of Ambivalence in a Brand Culture (2012) and the recent Empowered: Female Football and Popular Masculinity (2018). She is the co-editor of Cable Viewing Television: Beyond Broadcasting (2017), Commodity Activism: Cultural Resistance in Neoliberal Times (2012), and the forthcoming Katrina First: A Case. She is currently the co-editor of Communication: The Culture of Critique and has written a column for the Los Angeles Times on Banks on popular feminism.

Jane A. Bastillo Morales has been a Visiting Lecturer and Course Leader in Education Studies at London Metropolitan University for over five years. She currently teaches at undergraduate and postgraduate level, on different education programmes including in partnership between sociological