

Contents

- 8 Foreword
KIM SAJET
- 11 Introduction
1898: U.S. Imperial Visions
and Revisions
TAÍNA CARAGOL and
KATE CLARKE LEMAY

- 240 Notes
- 290 Bibliography
- 304 Chronology
CAROLINA MAESTRE with
SHANNON NEAL
- 315 Index
- 322 Acknowledgments
- 326 Credits

Catalogue

TAÍNA CARAGOL and KATE CLARKE LEMAY
with CAROLINA MAESTRE

-
- 1 “The Portraits in the Gallery Have Never Been Only National”
KRISTIN HOGANSON 22
Prelude to Empire
Indian Wars and Sea Power 31
-
- 2 “Our Culture Has to Be the Core of Our Resistance”
HEALOHA JOHNSTON 54
Hawaiian Resistance and U.S. Imperialism 59
-
- 3 “Cuba and Puerto Rico: Two Wings of a Bird?”
JORGE DUANY 84
On the Verge of Sovereignty
Cuba and Puerto Rico at the Turn of the Twentieth Century 89
-
- 4 “Forgetting Empire, Remembering Resistance”
THEODORE S. GONZALVES 120
Cutting a Path to Sovereignty
The Complex Political Landscapes of the Philippines and Guam 125
-
- 5 “America Has a Colonies Problem”
NEIL WEARE 158
1898: A Contest in Memory 163
- 183 Forces at Play
War and Empire in the Art of Winslow Homer and Armando García Menocal
KATE CLARKE LEMAY
- 205 New Possessions
Colonial Curios, Trophies, Weapons, and Museum Collections from the Philippine-American War
PAUL A. KRAMER
- 219 The 1898 Diasporas
Contemporary Artists Redefining Portraiture
TAÍNA CARAGOL