

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgements	viii
Notes on Contributors	ix
List of Abbreviations	xiii
The Crusades, the Latin East and Medieval History-Writing: An Introduction	1
Andrew D. Buck, James H. Kane and Stephen J. Spencer
1 History-Writing and Remembrance in Crusade Letters	34
Thomas W. Smith
2 A 'swiðe mycel styrung': The First Crusade in Early Vernacular Annals from Anglo-Norman England	48
James H. Kane
3 To Bargain with God: The Crusade Vow in the Narratives of the First Crusade	68
Edward J. Caddy
4 'The Lord has brought eastern riches before you': Battlefield Spoils and Looted Treasure in Narratives of the First Crusade	86
Connor C. Wilson
5 Foundation and Settlement in Fulcher of Chartres' Historia Hierosolymitana : A Narratological Reading	102
Katy Mortimer
6 After Ascalon: 'Bartolf of Nangis', Fulcher of Chartres and the Early Years of the Kingdom of Jerusalem	121
Susan B. Edgington
7 Repurposing a Crusade Chronicle: Peter of Cornwall's Liber Revelationum and the Reception of Fulcher of Chartres' Historia Hierosolymitana in Medieval England	137
Stephen J. Spencer
8 Between Chronicon and Chanson : William of Tyre, the First Crusade and the Art of Storytelling	155
Andrew D. Buck

Contents

9	History and Politics in the Latin East: William of Tyre and the Composition of the Historia Hierosolymitana Ivo Wolsing	174
10	'When I became a man': Kingship and Masculinity in William of Tyre's Chronicon Katherine J. Lewis	191
11	Laments for the Lost City: The Loss of Jerusalem in Western Historical Writing Katrine Funding Højgaard	211
12	The Silences of the Itinerarium Peregrinorum 1 Helen J. Nicholson	228
13	The Natural and Biblical Landscapes of the Holy Land in Jacques de Vitry's Historia Orientalis Beth C. Spacey	242
14	The Masculine Experience and the Experience of Masculinity on the Seventh Crusade in John of Joinville's Vie de Saint Louis Mark McCabe	259
15	Writing and Copying History at Acre, c. 1230–91 Peter W. Edbury	277
	Index	289