

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
List of Abbreviations	xiii
List of Contributors	xv
1. Introduction	1
Caillan Davenport and Shushma Malik
2. Tiberius in Space: Proxemics and the Portrayal of the Princeps	40
Rhiannon Ash
3. Julio-Claudian Emperors as Fathers and Sons	63
Eleanor Cowan
4. Herodes Atticus, Hadrian, and the Antonines: Mediating Power and Self-Promotion in Achaëa through Public and Private Display	89
Estelle Strazdins
5. Looking for Representations of Emperors in Late Antique Popular Culture	115
Lucy Grig
6. Educating Theodosius II: Theodosian Child-Emperors and the Manipulation of the Imperial Image	144
Meaghan McEvoy
7. Jordanes and the End of the Roman Empire	173
M. Shane Bjornlie
8. 'Per voler del primo amor ch'i' sento': Justinian and Theodora from the Sixth to Sixteenth Centuries	195
Filippo Carlà-Uhink
9. The Humanists and the Emperors: The Case of Biondo Flavio (1392–1463)	214
Frances Muecke
10. Roman Emperors in Montesquieu's Considerations	239
Shushma Malik
11. Retrospective Parentage: Augustus as a Father of Europe	265
Penelope J. Goodman

12. Fictions of Power: Thornton Wilder's The Ides of March and John Williams's Augustus J. H. D. Scourfield	296
13. Epilogue: Towards a Methodology of Representation Caillan Davenport and Shushma Malik	320
Index	331
Publisher's Acknowledgements	334