

Table of Contents

Klaus Beekman and Jan de Vries Introduction. Criticism and Avant-Garde	7
Jean-Roch Bouiller Art Criticism and Avant-Garde: André Lhote 's Written Works	15
Ben Rebel Architectural Criticism in de 8 en OPBOUW	31
Ansje van Beusekom Theo van Doesburg and Writings on Film in De Stijl	55
Peter G.F. Eversmann The International Theatre Exhibition of 1922 and the Critics	67
Nico Laan The Making of a Reputation: the Case of Cobra	91
Hugo Verdaasdonk Avant-Garde Reviewing of New Book Releases. A Case Study from The Netherlands	119
Willem G. Weststeijn Mayakovsky as Literary Critic	139
Gregor Langfeld German Art in The Netherlands before and after World War II	157
Arie Hartog Banality in Art Criticism. Comments on the Reception of Art in the German Daily Press of the 1920s	11

Hubert F. van den Berg A Victorious Campaign for Dadaism? On the Press Coverage of the Dutch Dada Tour of 1923	195
Klaus Beekman The Inevitability of Argumentative Criticism. Theo van Doesburg and the Constructive Review	251
Raif Griittemeier On Intentionality and Avant-Garde Criticism	269
Wiljan van den Akker and Gillis Dorleijn Resistance to the Avant-Garde. Criticism of the Avant-Garde in Dutch Literary Periodicals	289
Sabine van Wesemael Dutch Contemporaries on Proust and the Historic Avant-Garde	313
Hestia Bavelaar The Writing Artists of the Magazine Kroniek van Kunst en Cultuur (Chronicle of Art and Culture) in the Period 1935-1941	337