

The Library of New Testament Studies (LNTS) is a premier book series that offers cutting-edge work for a readership of scholars, teachers in the field of New Testament studies, postgraduate students and advanced undergraduates. All the many and diverse aspects of New Testament study are represented and promoted, including innovative work from historical perspectives, studies using social-scientific and literary theory, and developing theological, cultural and contextual approaches.

JESUS, MATTHEW'S GOSPEL AND EARLY CHRISTIANITY

The passing of Professor Graham Stanton, former Lady Margaret Chair of Divinity at Cambridge University, in 2009 marked the passing of an era in Matthean scholarship and studies of early Christianity.

Stanton's fifteen books and dozens of articles span thirty-four years and centre largely on questions pertaining to Jesus, the Gospel of Matthew and early Christianity. The present volume features essays that each engage a research question that intersects the contribution of Stanton in his various spheres of scholarly influence and enquiry, creating a fitting tribute and handbook to the work of a giant of modern biblical scholarship. The highly distinguished contributors include: Richard A. Burridge; David Catchpole; James D. G. Dunn; Craig A. Evans; Don Hagner; Peter Head; Anders Runesson and Christopher Tuckett.

DANIEL M. GURTNER is Associate Professor of New Testament at Bethel Seminary, St Paul, MN, USA.

JOEL WILLITTS is Associate Professor of Biblical and Theological Studies at North Park University, Chicago, USA.

RICHARD A. BURRIDGE is Professor of Biblical Interpretation and Dean at King's College London, UK.
