

Table of Contents

Preface.....	V
Introduction: Body and Hope.....	1
Chapter 1: Hope	3
I. Between Embodied Hope and Hope for the Body.....	3
II. Christian Hope as Transformational Movement	5
III. The Issues of Hope: From the Problem of Time to the Challenge of Intersubjectivity	7
Chapter 2: Hope and Body	11
I. From Purification to Clarification of the Doctrine of Hope: Types of Eschatology.....	11
II. Eschatological Themes and Polarizations.....	13
III. The Body as Eschatological Problem	16
IV. Body and Hope: Between Positive and Negative Finitude.....	21
Chapter 3: Body and Hope in Contemporary Theology	23
I. Body and Hope in Eschatology	23
II. Body and Identity: The Problem of Continuity.....	27
Chapter 4: Body and Hope in the Subsequent	31
I. Material: With Paul Tillich, through Jürgen Moltmann to Wolfhart Pannenberg	31
II. Approach and Perspectives: By means of Maurice Merleau-Ponty through Renaud Barbaras.....	34
Part One: The Death of the Body: Body against Body.....	37
Chapter 5: Death as an Eschatological Theme: A Critical Approach	39
Chapter 6: Death and God	42
I. The Relativity of Death: Between Life and Death of God	42
1. Death in Life and Life in Death.....	42

2. Life and Death: Dialectic, Inclusion or Integration?	43
a) Dialectic: Tillich	43
b) Inclusion: Moltmann	46
c) Integration: Pannenberg	49
3. A New Movement of Life	53
II. The Conceptualization of Death:
Between Positive and Negative Death	57
1. The Character of Death	57
2. Death as Negativity: Non-being, Suffering or Evil?	57
a) Non-being: Tillich	57
b) Suffering: Moltmann	60
c) Evil: Pannenberg	63
3. God's Movement between Abstractions	67
Chapter 7: Death and Man	70
I. The Understanding of Death:
Between Universal and Individual Death	70
1. Death as Disruption	70
2. The Event of Death: Nature, Fact or Consequence?	72
a) Nature: Tillich	72
b) Fact: Moltmann	76
c) Consequence: Pannenberg	80
3. Movement and Ambivalence of the World	84
II. The Experience of Death:
Between Natural Death and the Death of Sin	87
1. The Reality of Death	87
2. The Meaning of Death: Guilt, Destiny or Independence?	89
a) Guilt: Tillich	89
b) Destiny: Moltmann	91
c) Independence: Pannenberg	93
3. Ambiguity of Man in the World	98
Chapter 8: Death and Body	100
I. The Appearance of Death: Between Separation and Perversion	100
1. The Destruction of Death	100
2. The Manifestation of Death:
Despair, Alienation or Destruction?	101
a) Despair: Tillich	101
b) Alienation: Moltmann	105
c) Destruction: Pannenberg	109
3. The Synthesis of Embodied Experience	114
II. The Description of Death: Between Total and Limited Death	118
1. The Extent of Destruction	118

2. The Death of the Person: Untruth, Change or Fixation?	120
a) Untruth: Tillich	120
b) Change: Moltmann	122
c) Fixation: Pannenberg	125
3. Negative Death as Separation of Perception	130
Chapter 9: Death in Eschatology: Negativity, Relativity and Body	135
Part Two: The Hope for New Life: Body between Bodies	139
Chapter 10: New Life as an Eschatological Theme: A Constructive Approach	141
Chapter 11: New Life and Man	144
I. The Description of New Life:
Between Natural and Revealed Hope	144
1. The Character of New Life	144
2. The Interpretation of New Life: Symbol, Nature and History	147
a) Symbol: Tillich	147
b) Nature: Moltmann	153
c) History: Pannenberg	158
3. The Meaning of the Material	164
II. The Understanding of New Life:
Between Immortality and Resurrection	167
1. Continuity of Man	167
2. Personal Consummation:
Essentialization, Transformation and Completion	168
a) Essentialization: Tillich	168
b) Transformation: Moltmann	172
c) Completion: Pannenberg	175
3. The Movement of Personal Transformation	180
Chapter 12: New Life and God	185
I. The Conceptualization of New Life:
Between Double Outcome and Restoration of All Things	185
1. Identification of New Life	185
2. The Criteria of the New:
Critique, Struggle and Anticipation	188
a) Critique: Tillich	188
b) Struggle: Moltmann	195
c) Anticipation: Pannenberg	198
3. Overcoming Negativity through a Movement of Difference	202

II. The Absoluteness of New Life: Between Identity and Alterity	207
1. The New in Life and Life as New	207
2. The Absolute and the Relative:
Fragment, Promise and Repetition	208
a) Fragment: Tillich	208
b) Promise: Moltmann	211
c) Repetition: Pannenberg	215
3. The Trinitarian Movement of Life.....	220
Chapter 13: New Life and Body	223
I. The Experience of New Life: Between Time and Space	223
1. Time and Eternity	223
2. The Time of the Flesh: Elevation, Expectation and Duration.....	225
a) Elevation: Tillich	225
b) Expectation: Moltmann.....	228
c) Duration: Pannenberg	233
3. The Difference and Depth of Flesh	236
II. The Appearance of New Life: Between Self and Other	241
1. Individual and Community.....	241
2. Body and Love: Paradox, Perichoresis and Self-differentiation ...	243
a) Paradox: Tillich	243
b) Perichoresis: Moltmann	246
c) Self-differentiation: Pannenberg	250
3. Flesh and Desire	255
Chapter 14: New Life in Eschatology:
Positivity, Absoluteness and the Body	260
 Conclusion: Body and Hope.....	 265
Chapter 15: The Body in Eschatology:
From Disruption to Reconciliation	267
I. The Continuity of Hope: The Plenitude of Flesh	267
II. The Issues, Themes and a New Hope of Being-Between	270
III. Wider Theological and Contemporary Perspectives.....	278
 Bibliography	 283
 Index of Names.....	 289
Index of Subjects	292