

Contents

Notes on Contributors	ix
Introduction: The Discourses of Gillian Clark Averil Cameron	1
Part I Being Christian through Reading, Writing, and Hearing
1. Why Don't Jews Write Biography? Simon Goldhill	13
2. The Maccabean Mother between Pagans, Jews, and Christians Tessa Rajak	39
3. On the Status of Books in Early Christianity Guy G. Stroumsa	57
4. An Inextinguishable Memory: 'Pagan' Past and Presence in Early Christian Writing Josef Lössl	74
5. Playing Ball: Augustine and Plutarch on Capturing Wisdom Carol Harrison	90
Part II Being Christian in Community
6. Fiunt, non nascuntur Christiani : Conversion, Community, and Christian Identity in Late Antiquity Andrew Louth	109
7. Julian and the Christian Professors Neil McLynn	120
8. The City of Augustine: On the Interpretation of Civitas Catherine Conybeare	139
9. Christianity and Authority in Late Antiquity: The Transformation of the Concept of Auctoritas Karla Pollmann	156
10. Church Councils and Local Authority: The Development of Gallic Libri canonum during Late Antiquity Ralph W. Mathisen	175

Part III The Particularities of Being Christian

11. The Empresses' Tale, AD 300–360 Jill Harries	197
12. 'Being Female': Verse Commemoration at the Coemeterium S. Agnetis (Via Nomentana) Dennis Trout	215
13. Self-Portrait as a Landscape: Ausonius and His Herediolum Oliver Nicholson	235
14. Fashions for Varro in Late Antiquity and Christian Ways with Books Mark Vessey	253
15. The Image of a Christian Monk in Northern Syria: Symeon Stylites the Younger Fergus Millar	278
Index	297