

Contents / Inhoud

Frits Scholten & Joanna Woodall	Netherlandish artists on the move	6
Filip Vermeylen	Greener pastures? Capturing artists' migrations during the Dutch Revolt	40
Hope Walker	Netherlandish immigrant painters and the Dutch reformed church of London, Austin Friars, 1560-1580	58
Arjan de Koomen	'Una cosa non meno maravigliosa che honorata' The expansion of Netherlandish sculptors in sixteenth-century Europe	82
Franciszek Skibiński	Early-modern Netherlandish sculptors in Danzig and East-Central Europe. A study in dissemination through interrelation and workshop practice	110
Aleksandra Lipińska	Eastern outpost. The sculptors Herman van Hutte and Hendrik Horst in Lviv c. 1560-1610	136
Gert Jan van der Sman & Bouk Wierda	Wisselend succes. De loopbanen van Nederlandse en Vlaamse kunstenaars in Florence, 1450-1600	170
Marije Osnabrugge	From itinerant to immigrant artist. Aert Mytens in Naples	240
Abigail D. Newman	Juan de la Corte: 'branding' Flanders abroad	264
Judith Noorman	A fugitive's success story. Jacob van Loo in Paris (1661-1670)	302
Isabella di Lenardo	Carlo Helman, merchant, patron and collector, and the role of family ties in the Antwerp-Venice migrant network	324
Saskia Cohen-Willner	Between painter and painter stands a tall mountain. Van Mander's Italian Lives as a source for instructing artists in the deelen der consten	348