

Contents

Acknowledgements	3
Occasio's Lock of Hair: The Artist and the Ruler in Pursuit of Opportunity R. Malcolm Smuts & Luc Duerloo	5
Rubens and the Spell of the Gonzaga Collections Raffaella Morselli	21
The Representation of the French-Spanish Marriage Alliance in the Medici Cycle: 'Concorde perpetuelle' Nicola Courtright	39
Rubens et l'invention d'une image politique: la France personnifiée, XVI-XVII^e siècle Jean-François Dubost	65
High Quality Copies and the Art of Diplomacy during the Thirty Years War Anthony Colantuono	111
Ambition and Ambivalence: Peter Paul Rubens as a Diplomat Michael Auwers	127
Policy and Pomegranates: Art, Iconography and Counsel in Rubens's Anglo-Spanish Diplomacy of 1629–1630 John Adamson	143
Anthony van Dyck: A Painter-Diplomat Of the Thirty Years War? Toby Osborne	181
The Materials of Marital Diplomacy: Henrietta Maria's Trousseau Erin Griffey	197
The Representational Strategies of the Count-Duke of Olivares and Elisabeth of France: Equestrian Portraits, Guardainfantes and Miniatures (1628–1644) Laura Oliván Santaliestra	213
Rubens's Myths for the Rey Planeta at the Torre de la Parada Larry Silver	235
Rubens allemand? Le duo formé par Georg Petel et Rubens Blaise Ducos	255
Rubens, Bishop Veit Adam von Gepeckh, and the Freising High Altar, 1623–1625 Jeffrey Chipps Smith	261
Index	275
Colour Plates	285