

Table of Contents

---

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
Contextualizing fashion and war within popular culture Jennifer Craik	3
Overview Denise N. Rall	9
Section I: The military in popular culture	19
Chapter 1: Representation of female wartime bravery in Australia's Wanda the War Girl and Jane at War from the UK Jane Chapman	21
Chapter 2: Fashionable fascism: Cinematic images of the Nazi before and after 9/11 Kylee M. Hartman-Warren	35
Chapter 3: Branding the muscled male body as military costume Heather Smith and Richard Gehrman	57
Section II: Fashion and the military	73
Chapter 4: In the service of clothes: Elsa Schiaparelli and the war experience Annita Boyd	75
Chapter 5: The discipline of appearance: Military style and Australian flight hostess uniforms 1930-1964 Prudence Black	91

Chapter 6: Models, medals, and the use of military emblems in fashion Amanda Laugesen	107
Section III: Framing youth fashion, textile artworks and postcolonial costume in the context of conflict	123
Chapter 7: Battle dressed - clothing the criminal, or the horror of the 'hoodie' in Britain Joanne Turney	125
Chapter 8: Dutch wax and display: London and the art of Yinka Shonibare Davina Gregory	139
Chapter 9: Costume and conquest: Introducing a proximity framework for post-war impacts on textile and fashion Denise N. Rall	157
Afterword: The military in contemporary fashion Denise N. Rall	175
Contributors	181