

Content

Preface	5
Introduction	13

CHAPTER ONE:

DEFINITION AND VALUATION OF LOGIC BY ORIGEN

1. Some predecessors. Philo of Alexandria and Clement of Alexandria	18
2. Origen's definition of logic	20
2.1 Commentary on the Song of Songs	20
2.2 Abimelech in Homilies on Genesis and the threefold philosophy	24
3. Other allusions to the nature and valuation of logic	27
3.1 Positive valuations	27
3.2 Negative valuation	30

CHAPTER TWO:

LOGIC AS EPISTEMOLOGY AND NATURAL KNOWLEDGE

1. Divine Logos from epistemological point of view	36
2. Logos in the human being	38
2.1 Desire of knowledge	42
2.2 Lex naturalis, κοινή ἔννοια and φυσική ἔννοια	43
3. Kidneys in Second Homily on the Fifteenth Psalm	50
4. The process of normal knowledge	51

CHAPTER THREE:

SOME ASPECTS OF THE SCIENCE OF RATIONAL THINKING.

THEORY, PRACTICE AND DIVINE POWER

1. Theoretical and practical aspects of the science of rational thinking	55
2. Origenian interpretation of 1 Cor 2:4 f. Divine power and rationality	63

CHAPTER FOUR:

LOGIC AND THE THEORY OF SCIENCE IN FIRST PRINCIPLES

1. The scientific-theoretical structure of theology: the axioms	76
2. The vision of theological science	80
3. The place of dialectic in the system of theology	83
4. The interpretation	89

CHAPTER FIVE:

THE PRIMITIVE ENTITY OF INTERPRETATION. HOMONYMY

1. The nature of homonymy	93
2. Why does Origen not use the word homonymy in First Principles ?	101
3. The question of paronymy	102

CHAPTER SIX:

ELEMENTS OF THE THEORY OF SCIENTIFIC KNOWLEDGE IN ORIGEN'S COMMENTARY ON JOHN

1. The scientific-theoretical point of view and its grounds	105
2. Fundamental scientific-theoretical conceptions in Origen	106
3. An Aristotelian scientific-theoretical motif in Origen's Commentary on John	111
4. The place of the Commentary on John in Origen's work from a scientific-theoretical point of view	113
5. The problem of commentary-introduction	115
6. Scientific methodology in Origen's Commentary on John	117
6.1 The reconstruction of the text and its meaning	117
6.2 Logical principles and text-interpretation	123
6.3 Logic, theory of scientific knowledge and theology	125

CHAPTER SEVEN:

LOGICAL PARADOXES

1. Origen on logical paradoxes	129
2. Allusion to a logical paradox? The hooded man	131
3. Creating a paradox: Commentary on John XX 34	133
4. Saving a paradox: the liar	133
4.1 Commentary on the Psalms	135
4.2 Commentary on the Epistle to the Romans II 10	136

CHAPTER EIGHT:
DIALECTICS AND THE THEORY OF ARGUMENTATION.
ORIGEN AS DEBATER

1.	Situations and partners of debates	141
2.	Mission and teaching	142
3.	Disputes within the pale of the church	144
3.1	Dialogue with Heraclides	145
3.2	Debate with Julius Africanus	149
4.	Origen's polemic against heretic groups and persons	152
4.1	Polemic with Heracleon	153
4.2	First Principles II 4 f.	155
5.	"Discussion with some whom the Jews regard as learned"	161
6.	Origen's strategy of dispute	163

CHAPTER NINE:
STRATEGY OF ARGUMENTATION IN ORIGEN'S
CONTRA CELSUM

1.	Some preliminary notes	166
2.	Debate, logic, dialectic, and rhetoric	167
3.	The role of questions, exclamations, and demands	168
4.	The significance of Celsus' true statements	169
5.	Celsian statements which, according to Origen, need specification	172
6.	False factual propositions and improper valuations	173
7.	Defective arguments	178
7.1	Violation of pragmatic dialectical rules	178
7.2	The incoherence of Celsus' standpoint	182
7.3	Mistakes in the field of logical reasoning	184
8.	Perspectives of refutation	188

CHAPTER TEN:
THE QUESTION OF THE PHILOSOPHICAL SOURCES OF ORIGEN'S LOGIC

1.	The neutral character of the logic from the point of view of religious Weltanschauung and its consequence	191
2.	The physiognomy of the Origenian theology. The Middle Platonism	192
3.	The thesis of the Stoic logic's influence on Origen	195
4.	General Stoic logic concepts in Origen. Roberts' and Rist's interpretations ..	196
4.1	The Idle Argument (Contra Celsum II 20)	197
4.2	The Argument of two conditionals (Contra Celsum VII 15)	200

5. Commentary on John. Heine's interpretation	202
5.1 Commentary on John I–II	202
5.2 Commentary on John XX	204
5.3 Commentary on John XXXII	206

SUMMARY

207

References, Abbreviations and Bibliography	211
1. Abbreviations – Texts and Translations	211
2. Origen	211
3. Other authors	215
4. Secondary works	216
Indices	225
1. Bible	225
2. Origen	227
3. Names and subjects	236