

Contents

| | |
|-----------------|------|
| Preface | IX |
| List of Figures | XI |
| Abbreviations | XIII |

PART 1

Prolegomena

| | |
|--|----------|
| 1 Introduction | 3 |
| 1.1 Religious Ruler Ideology in Previous Research | 7 |
| 1.2 Towards a Model for Analysing Religious Strategies for Rulership at Ceremonial Buildings | 14 |
| 1.3 Approach and Methods | 20 |
| 1.4 Outline and Hypotheses | 29 |

PART 2

The Regional-Contextual Approach

| | |
|--|-----------|
| 2 The Three Areas of Investigation and their Political Leaders | 35 |
| 2.1 The Kings in the Mälaren Area | 35 |
| 2.2 The Earls in Trøndelag | 46 |
| 2.3 The Chieftains of Iceland | 53 |
| 3 Religious Strategies for Political Authorization—A Case Study | 63 |
| 3.1 The Kings Called the Ynglingar | 63 |
| 3.2 The Háleygja Kin (Hlaðajarlar) | 80 |
| 3.3 The Þórsnesingar | 86 |
| 3.4 A Contextual Interpretation | 90 |
| 4 Ceremonial Buildings and Sanctuaries | 95 |
| 4.1 The State of Research | 95 |
| 4.2 The Problem of Terminology | 104 |
| 4.3 Uppsala and other Sanctuaries in the Mälaren Area | 110 |
| 4.4 Lade and Mære in Trøndelag | 132 |
| 4.5 Hof Buildings in Iceland | 147 |

PART 3

General Features

- 5 The Religious Leadership of the Sanctuaries and the Economic System 163
- 5.1 The Debate about Cultic Leadership and the Terminology 164
- 5.2 Chieftains (hofðingjar, hersar, goðar) as Cultic Leaders of the Sanctuaries 167
- 5.3 Kings and Earls as the Cultic Leaders of Sanctuaries in Trøndelag and Svetjud 186
- 5.4 The Financial System of the Public Cult at the Sanctuaries 192
- 5.5 Ideological Motives behind the Rulers' Interest in Public Cult and Sanctuaries 197
- 6 The Ritual Structure of the Sanctuaries and Cosmic Symbolism 199
- 6.1 Cosmic Symbolism: Some Theoretical and Methodological Issues 200
- 6.2 The Location, Architecture and Decoration of Ceremonial Buildings 205
- 6.3 The Interiors: High-seat, High-seat Posts and Hearths 219
- 6.4 The Exterior Ritual Structure of the Sanctuaries 249
- 7 The Relation between Rulers and Cultic Images 264
- 7.1 Miniatures and Medallions 265
- 7.2 The Three Statues of Gods in the "Uppsala Temple" 266
- 7.3 Cultic Images in the Sanctuaries of Trøndelag and Northern Norway 272
- 7.4 Cultic Images in the Sagas of Icelanders and the Image from Eyrarland 282
- 7.5 Cultic Images and Religious Strategies for Rulership: Hypotheses 287
- 8 Sacred Sites, Ritual Restrictions and Religious Strategies for Rulership 290
- 8.1 Sanctifications of Places and Ritual Restrictions (Taboos) 291
- 8.2 The Enclosed Sacred Space 298
- 8.3 Violations against the Sanctity of the Sacred Space: The Example of Egils saga 303
- 8.4 The Ruler as the Protector of the Sanctified Space 305
- 8.5 Burning or Breaking Down the Ceremonial Building: An Attack against the "World" of the Ruler 307

- 8.6 The Renovation and Ending of Ceremonial Buildings and Sanctuaries 311
- 9 Ceremonial Feasts as Ritual Strategies 316
- 9.1 Hákonar saga góða and the Ceremonial Feasts at Lade and Mære 316
- 9.2 Calendrical Religious Feasts 320
- 9.3 The Ruler as Sacrificer 325
- 9.4 Smearing Sacrificial Blood on the Sacrificial Platforms 331
- 9.5 Ceremonial Meals and the Custom of Eating Horse Meat 344
- 9.6 Ritual Drinking and the Reciting of Ritual Formulae 351
- 9.7 Gift-Giving Ceremonies 359
- 9.8 Excursus: The Central Role of Noble Women at the Ceremonial Banquets 363
- 10 Rulers, Rings and Rituals—From Svetjud to Iceland and Back Again 376
- 10.1 The Forsa Ring from Hälsingland—A Sacred “Oath-Ring” at a Sanctuary? 377
- 10.2 “Oath-Rings” and hof Sanctuaries in the Sagas of Icelanders 387
- 10.3 Ritual-Rings and Sanctuaries in Svetjud 391
- 10.4 The Custom of Swearing Oaths on Rings 398

PART 4

Regional Diversity

- 11 Golden Objects as Media of Power 407
- 11.1 Gold Foil Figures 407
- 11.2 The Gold Bracteates at the Hall of Helgö 418
- 11.3 The Golden Medallion from Inderøy 419
- 11.4 The “Golden Door Ring” of the hof Sanctuary of Lade 421
- 11.5 Golden Arm- and Neck-Rings 424
- 12 Ceremonial Buildings, Great Burial Mounds, and the Worship of Dead Rulers 430
- 12.1 The Distribution of Great Burial Mounds in the Investigation Areas 431
- 12.2 Great Burial Mounds as Part of the Aristocratic Sanctuaries 433
- 12.3 Great Burial Mounds as Symbols of Genealogy and Land Rights 444

- 12.4 The Cult of Heroes at the Great Mounds 453
- 12.5 The Cult at the Burial Mounds of Freyr and Hǫlgi 466
- 13 The Arenas for Royal Funeral Feasts and Inauguration Rituals 476
- 13.1 King Qnundr's Funeral Feast 476
- 13.2 Libations at Funeral Feasts 481
- 13.3 The Place for Drinking Beer at the Funeral Feast 485
- 13.4 The High-Seat and Inheritance 488
- 13.5 Royal Inaugurations, High-Seats and the Great Mounds 492
- 13.6 A Royal Rite of Passage 498
- 14 (Inter-)Regional Chief Sanctuaries as a Religious Strategy for Rulership 503
- 14.1 Cultic Organization 503
- 14.2 The Chief Sanctuaries of Trøndelag and Svetjud 508
- 14.3 The Cult of Many Gods at the Chief Sanctuaries as Strategy of Power 516
- 15 Valhǫll, Ceremonial Buildings and Warrior Lords 521
- 15.1 The Martial and Eschatological Valhǫll Mythology 521
- 15.2 The Warrior Halls in Late Iron Age Scandinavia and Valhǫll 523
- 15.3 The Distribution of Warrior Lords with Warrior Bands in Scandinavia 527
- 15.4 The Valhǫll Mythology as Part of Ruler Strategies in Svetjud and Trøndelag 533

PART 5

Epilegomena

- 16 Conclusions 539

Bibliography 547

Index 617