

Contents

List of illustrations	xiii
Notes on contributors	xv

Introduction	1
TIM OAKES AND JUNE WANG

PART I

Assembling new models: global networks and state aspirations	15
---	----

Section introduction	17
-----------------------------	----

1 Creative clusters in Shanghai: transnational intermediaries and the creative economy	21
JUSTIN O'CONNOR AND XIN GU

2 Local planning practices and institutional innovation of the creative city: the case of Taipei City	36
CHENG-YI LIN

3 Sub-national neoliberalism through city restructuring and policy boosterism: the case of Hyderabad, India	53
DIGANTA DAS

4 Arts districts or art-themed parks: arts districts repurposed by/for Chinese governments	69
AMY Y. ZHANG

5 Spaces of restriction and leisure: Seoul's vision of the creative city	80
JAY E. BOWEN

6 Housing the arts in a developmental state: Renaissance City Singapore	98
T.C. CHIANG
7 Displaying Han–Tang culture in urban development projects in Xi’an, China	114
YANG YANG
8 Worlding through shanzhai: the evolving art cluster of Dafen in Shenzhen, China	129
JUNE WANG
PART II
Encountering the cultural/creative city: negotiation, resistance, and community aspirations	145
Section introduction	147
9 Accessing spaces, negotiating boundaries: the struggle between cultural policies and creative practices in Malaysia	149
JOANNE B.Y. LIM
10 Global knowledge and local practices: reinventing cultural policy in Busan, South Korea	163
SE HOON PARK
11 ‘Creative class’ subversions: art spaces in Beijing and Berlin	177
JULIE REN
12 Making cultures and places from below: new urban activism in Hong Kong	191
AGNES SHUK-MEI KU
13 The cultural grassroots and the authoritarian city: spaces of contestation in Singapore	204
JASON LUGER
14 Gentrification in the mill lands of Mumbai: changing spatial practices and everyday life in working-class chawls	219
DWIPARNA CHATTERJEE AND DEVANATHAN PARTHASARATHY
15 Afterword: creative city policy and social resistance	234
MARGIT MAYER
Index	251