

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	viii
Note on Geographical Names	x
1 Return of the Non-Native: You Can Go Home Again	1
Point of No Return	4
Now and Then	8
Life Histories	10
2 Lank Man: The Carpet Legacy	14
From Education to Business	15
The Next Generation: Lank Man to Bhim	20
The Ingredients of Success	22
3 Bhim and Sukar: Generation X	23
The Marriage of Bhim and Sukar	28
4 Modern Migrants: Life in Kathmandu	35
Recreating Tarali Culture in Kathmandu	36
Tarali Community Organizations in Kathmandu	37
Tarali Culture and Other Cultures	40
5 Dhanu: Yarsagumba and Politics	45
The Yarsagumba Revolution	50
6 Back to Tarang	60
Destination: Dolpa	63
Arriving in Tarang	64
7 The Next Day	69
Innovations	72
8 The More Things Change . . .	81
Economic Changes	81

Ritual Changes	85
The Outside World	89
Hierarchical Changes	92
Government and Maoist Presence	93
Kamis	94
Local Interest in Local Culture	97
Leaving Dolpa	98
9 Chandra Man Rokaya: Rags to Riches	101
Beginning: Eight Years Old	107
The Trip to Kathmandu	123
Kathmandu	129
Our Most Miserable Days	146
Settlement and Return	155
At Home Again in Tarang	161
Into the Larger World	164
Time Line for Chandra Man Rokaya	168
10 Conclusions	169
Past and Present	171
Into the Future	174
Unscientific Postscript: Interview with James F. Fisher, Conducted by Gaurab KC	177
Appendix A: Kinship and Marriage Relations Among Entrepreneurial Taralis	243
Appendix B: Chandra Man Rokaya's Genealogy	244
Appendix C: Advanced Education Pursued by Taralis during the 1960s and 1970s	245
Appendix D: Months in Bikram Sambat, the Nepali Calendar	246
Bibliography	247
Index	249