

IDA16 Results Measurement System

International Development Association

THE WORLD BANK'S FUND FOR THE POOREST

What is the Results Measurement System for IDA?

For more than a decade, IDA has been measuring its role in helping countries grow and reduce poverty and informing donors about the effectiveness of their contributions. The Results Measurement System (RMS) for IDA16 uses an integrated results and performance framework to show aggregated results across IDA countries. It assesses IDA's contribution to development results, and is linked to the Millennium Development Goals. It also shows whether IDA is managing its operations and services effectively and is functioning efficiently.

The RMS groups indicators into four tiers. The first two tiers track aggregate country development results and IDA's contribution to these development results. The other two capture elements of performance against agreed IDA16 performance standards in an "IDA Report Card". The four tiers are: (1) IDA Countries' Progress; (2) IDA-Supported Development Results; (3) IDA Operational Effectiveness; and (4) IDA Organizational Effectiveness.

For more information and specifics on each indicator, please see Annex 1 of the IDA16 Deputies' Report: http://www.worldbank.org/ida/papers/IDA16_Replenishment/IDA16_Report-English-Final.pdf.
