

A Dancer's Tale

The story of Phyllis Spira

Thea Nicole de Klerk

Samantha Cutler

Roberto Pita

A Dancer's Tale

This book belongs to

Please send a photo of the child holding this page open to pic@bookdash.org or on social media with @bookdash

A Dancer's Tale

Illustrated by Thea Nicole de Klerk

Written by Samantha Cutler

Designed by Roberto Pita

with the help of the Book Dash participants at Cape Town on 28 June 2014, listed here: bookdash.org/book-dash-cape-town-august2014/

ISBN: 978-0-9946519-4-1

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 Licence (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>). You are free to share (copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format) and adapt (remix, transform, and build upon the material) this work for any purpose, even commercially. The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the following license terms:

Attribution: You must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made. You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use.

No additional restrictions: You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits.

Notices: You do not have to comply with the license for elements of the material in the public domain or where your use is permitted by an applicable exception or limitation.

No warranties are given. The license may not give you all of the permissions necessary for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy, or moral rights may limit how you use the material.

A Dancer's Tale

The story of Phyllis Spira

Once upon a time,
in Joburg's Orange Grove,
a little girl called Phyllis was born into the world.

Two people in love,
hugged their sweet little babe.
No-one knew then,
what a dancer they'd made.

By the time she was four,
she had learned very quick.
She impressed all her teachers,
with her ducky feet flicks!

Before school and after,
she danced everyday.
Nothing pleased Phyllis,
more than ballet.

When the world was ready for Phyllis at fifteen,
She arrived in big, old London,
ready to live her dream.

She said goodbye to all her friends.
She was ready to start fresh.

Watch out Royal Ballet School!
Phyllis is here to impress.

When Phyllis danced Swan Lake,
it was fit to show the Queen!
After years of pirouetting,
she was ready to be seen.

Dancing for the audience,
she turned and twirled about.
Look! Everyone is smiling!
See how they clap and shout!

From Mexico to Canada.
From the USA to France.
Phyllis travelled far and wide,
so the world could see her dance.

With the Royal Ballet Company,
and her ballerina friends,
she spread her love for ballet.
She never wanted it to end.

Phyllis always knew,
that dance was in her heart.
But she longed to return home again,
and make a fresh new start.

So she leaped and bounded,
back to her beautiful land.
Her ballerina roots were regrown.
She was once more South African.

Dancing wasn't just for fun,
as Phyllis always knew.
She'd work at dancing day and night,
and with hard work she grew.

Always smiling, always trying,
through good times and through tough,
Phyllis always did her best.
She couldn't get enough.

Romeo and Juliet,
Swan Lake and Giselle.

Phyllis danced these for the people:
graceful, tireless, well.

With partners Gary Burne
and Eduard Greyling too,
her magnificence inspired the audience.
To her, flowers they threw.

Reward comes easily,
when you put yourself to the test.
Phyllis came to realise this,
once she was called 'The Best.'

She was awarded 'Prima Ballerina Assoluta.'
The greatest dancer of them all!
Phyllis would be forever known.
She wanted nothing more.

Goodness! What a catch!
Phyllis met her loving partner.
His name was Phillip Boyd.
He was another dancer.

Together they were married.
and together they would dance.
No-one could be better matched,
given half the chance!

Though they had no children,
Phyllis and Phillip were never sad.
They two of them found another way to help other Mums and Dads.

They started Dance For All,
a special school for dance.
So that children with no money,
could also learn to prance!

She left a legacy of dance,
and incredible success.

Her magic was passed on to others to help them become their best.

Her students spread accross the world,
inspired by her ducky feet.

They dance on while we watch,
dreaming from our seats.

Phyllis Spira was dancing by the age of four.
That was just the beginning of her wonderful journey towards becoming one of South Africa's Prima Ballerinas.

ISBN 9780994651914

9 780994 651914