After three weeks' work there with the geography class, he with others will take a trip up the Sacramento river and study the various features in connection with a river, such as tides, sediments, etc. The party will finish their study during a ten days' camp at Mount Shasta, where the glaciers, action of the ice and snow, and volcanic features, etc., will receive attention.

The "Blues" Win

The Methodist Sunday school has been carrying on a contest for the past few weeks which has resulted in bring in many new scholars and increasing the regularity of attendance of the old members. The school was divided into two sections designated as the "Reds" and the "Blues." The contest closed on Sunday, June 6th, with the score standing, Reds 1248 points, and Blues 1253 points. At the beginning of the contest it was understood that the losing side would entertain the winners. Accordingly, on tomorrow, Saturday evening the members of the school, excepting the infant class, will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Bogert, on the Williams road. The Reds will provide the entertainment and refreshments and otherwise see that all have a good time.

UNION DISTRICT

Mrs. Irving C. Bytler is visiting among relatives and friends in San Francisco.

George Bulmore and family visited at the Bungalow the latter part of last week.

Miss Evangeline Guierison of Los Gatos is enjoying the week visiting with her aunt Mrs. A. H. Downing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Mansfield and son Wilbur are home again Monday from Live Oak where they spent several weeks looking after their ranch interests.

On Wednesday evening, June 8, a few of the boys of the C. U. H. S. entertained their young lady friends at a social dance and supper at the Union Club House. The High school orchestra furnished the music.

Union School closed on Friday for its summer vacation. On Friday evening the four upper grades gave a very interesting programme assisted by former pupils of the school. Two very clever farces were also given after which dancing was enjoyed. The graduates were as follows: Endora Scott; Beatrice Thomas; Grace Piorb; Ruth Poulson; Joe Scott; Raymond Tonkin and Harold Bryan.

A Woman's Great Idea

is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50c. at all Druggists.

Queer Creatures.

There are microscopic creatures which live in roof gutters and on the bark of trees and are known as water bears and wheel animalcules. If allowed to dry up under the microscope they can be seen to shrivel into shapeless masses, which may be kept for years unharmed in the dried state. On being placed, after this long interval, in water they gradually plump up, resume their proper shape and move about in search of food just as if nothing had happened. Much the same is true for the minute worms which, from the substances in which they live, are known as paste and vinegar eels. Well known is the famous case of the desert snail which, retracted into its shell, was fastened to a tablet in the British museum and showed no sign of life for seven years, when one morning it was found crawling hungrily about the glass case that formed its prison.—Westminster Gazette.

Saluting With the Hat.

Before the invention of wigs the hat was rarely removed except to salute others, especially royal personages. It was worn at table when ladies or persons of rank were present. Except when saluting royalty it was the custom merely to raise the band to the hat somewhat after the manner of a military salute. When it became the mode to wear a profusion of false hair the hat was less needed as a protection for the head and was carried under the arm.

Not Always.

NEWS OF WEEK FROM ALL THE COAST STATES

Occurrences Along the Pacific Slope Presented in Compendious Array.

Passing Events Among Your Neighbors Briefly Told in Short, Newsy Paragraphs.

Oakland.—For the first time in ten years Oakland will have no Fourth of July celebration.

Oakland.—An ordinance has been adopted prohibiting the explosion of fireworks within the city limits on July 4th.

Redwood City.—Half crazed from the loneliness of his life in the woods, Joaquin Franco, aged 78, a woodchopper on the Arata ranch above Woodside, committed suicide.

Sawtelle.—William E. Powers, formerly a nurse in the Soldiers' Home hospital, was found guilty of having assaulted John Kennedy, a bedridden patient, and Justice Michaels sentenced him to serve 60 days in the county jail.

Porterville.—Each of the engine houses in this city will be equipped with an auto fire engine of 42 horsepower, built in special design to suit the requirements and road conditions of this city. An auto hose cart, with a capacity of 1000 feet of hose, will also be used.

Redding.—L. A. McIntosh, superintendent of the Midas mine, chased a deer three miles in an automobile recently and then lost it in the woods. McIntosh was on his way to Chico, when the deer jumped from the side of the road and started to run ahead of the machine.

Bellingham, Wash.—The flying limb of a tree decapitated Henry Johnson, foreman of the Manley Mill Company's logging camp, a few miles south of this city. Johnson had been overseeing the felling of some timber. The head was lying some distance from the corpse when found.

San Francisco.—Eating cherries and drinking warm water almost caused the death of Florence Hartley, a young girl employed in a local bookbindery. Only prompt attention at the Emergency Hospital saved the girl's life, as she was in the throes of convulsions when brought to the institution.

Auburn.—David Waldemere Lubeck, former president of the Placer County Bank and one of the wealthiest and best known residents of this county, died at his home here last week. He began by selling shoe laces on the streets. Later he operated a store and from that went into banking. He was 74 years old.

San Francisco.—Prince Tsar Tao, the Chinese Ambassador Extraordinary and Special Envoy, who lately passed through San Francisco, through his secretary has forwarded to this city a gift of $100 for the local police in recognition of the care they took of him while he was here. The money has been placed in the widows' and orphans' fund.

Sacramento.—Many small towns in the southern part of the State have been particularly interested in having State Forester Homans issue some sort of an order against fireworks on the Fourth of July as a menace to forests and grain. Homans said that he could not interfere with the cities or towns, but that the local authorities must handle the situation.

San Francisco.—Pending the result of a final appeal to the Federal authorities for the return of the detention sheds, which are now located on Angel island, to San Francisco, the Chinese have decided to call off the projected boycott on American goods, and cablegrams have been sent to the various mercantile bodies in China notifying those organizations that nothing will be done in the matter until a decisive answer is received from the United States Government.

Oakland.—Her reason shattered by a tumor, which physicians say is undermining her brain, Severina Rameriz, 15 years of age, was committed to the Stockton hospital for the insane for treatment by Judge Ellsworth. The girl's case is remarkable in several respects. She recently became unmanageable and refused to eat. She was taken to the Detention Home, where the physicians discovered the tumor over her ear and gave this as the reason for her condition.

EXPLORER PEARY SUED FOR RETURN OF ARTIC CURIOS

Cook's Associate Says He Was Forced to Give Up Valuable Collection.

Berlin.—Rudolph Francke, who was associated with Dr. Frederick A. Cook in Arctic exploration, has brought suit against Commander Robert E. Peary for $10,000. The amount is estimated at half the value of fur and walrus and norwhal teeth which Francke bought from natives in the Arctic regions upon arrangement with Dr. Cook that they should share them half and half.

According to Francke's statement, Commander Peary found him seriously ill at Etah, owing to a fall on the glacier, and took advantage of this circumstance to demand the entire collection as the price of transporting him to America. Francke claims that he did not act of his own free will, but by compulsion, and says that Peary set aside a part of the collection to present to ex-President Roosevelt.

The papers in the suit were served on Commander Peary at a hotel here. He refused to take them when handed him by a deputy, and the officer then laid them on a table in the presence of a witness, calling the Commander's attention to the fact that this was a legal service. Peary would make no statement.

Berlin.—According to the Lokal Anzeiger, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, has instituted suit in the Berlin courts against Commander Robert E. Peary. The paper says Cook seeks to recover $10,000 which he alleges to be due him in payment for bearskins and other polar products delivered to the Commander.

The following day Peary left here on his way home to the United States. Before departing Peary said to a friend that he would contend that the German courts had no jurisdiction. The case will come up June 28. Peary has arranged to be represented by an attorney.

Drought Killing Wheat.

Tacoma, Wash.—Hot winds and a lack of rain are damaging the eastern Washington wheat crop at the rate of many thousands of dollars a day. The damage is quite general, embracing three of the largest grain districts of the State, Walla Walla, Palouse and Big Bend. The rain has not been general over eastern Washington for a month and the excessive dryness is the result. In several counties winter wheat is heading out and shows signs of scorching from last week's hot sun. The spring was cold and late, making all the grain backward.

Theatre For Deaf and Dumb.

Delavin, Wis.—A "newer theater" that will overshadow many others, not alone in its idea of novelty but in the idea of uplift, is being developed at the Wisconsin School for the Deaf in this city. In a short time it is expected that the unfortunates without hearing or power of speech will be able to enjoy the stage as fully and with the same understanding as those who hear and speak. The idea grows out of a performance given here some months ago, when Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" was presented in the sign language.

New Preserving Industry.

Honolulu.—Fresh pineapple juice, a new Hawaiian product, is to be placed on the market. Experiments have been conducted for two years to find a process whereby the fresh juice could be expressed, bottled and preserved indefinitely, and the tests have finally been successful and a patented process has been secured. By means of this new process, much of the pineapple which it has heretofore been necessary to throw away at the canneries can be saved and utilized.

Uncle Sam Won't Pay the Bill.

Washington.—Vice-President Sherman and Speaker Cannon must pay the salaries of their chauffeurs and buy their own gasoline. The Senate has given up its fight for the two appropriations for $2500 each for the maintenance of the automobiles of the presiding officers of the two Houses of Congress, which are furnished by the Government. The House refused to agree to the appropriation.

Wanted to Emulate Jesse James.

Golden, Colo.—Henry Miller and Andrew Frillski, two 14-year-old Chicago boys, who ran away, they said, to become bandit hunters, were arrested here while trying to purchase firearms. The boys secured enough money before leaving home to pay their fare a part of the way and traveled the rest of the distance on freight trains.

Fire Visits Happy Camp.

Yreka.—Happy Camp, a mining town in the western part of Siskiyou county, was partly destroyed by fire originating in the Chinese quarter, which was swept away entirely.

United States Will Soon Have Postal Savings Bank

Washington.—The postal savings bank bill passed the House by a vote of 192 to 113, receiving 24 Democratic votes, although it was a Republican caucus measure.

This is the last of the President's legislative measures to have to pass the House at this session—the last at least that the President will insist on. The House has now passed the railroad bill, the statehood bill and the conservation bill. The injunction bill will be permitted to slumber in committee, the President having told House leaders he will not insist on it.

From now until adjournment the House will mark time, while the Senate completes its work and the conferees get together on bills on which the House and Senate disagree.

The President approves the House postal savings bank bill, which is a substitute for the Senate measure. The House bill differs from the Senate bill in many important features, mainly in the differences of amounts of deposits to be carried in local banks and in the control of the President over the amounts so deposited.

The Senate bill carries a hard and fast clause holding half of the deposits in local banks, not subject to withdrawal, for investment in any securities, and providing for means for the withdrawal by individuals of their deposits for investment in government bonds.

The House bill provides: The Postmaster-General, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney-General shall be a board of trustees to take care of the postal savings funds and to adopt regulations concerning them.

That the President shall have authority to call in all deposits in time of war, or other great emergencies.

That 30 per cent shall be invested in national treasury as a reserve fund.

That 65 per cent shall be deposited in local banks depositing sufficient security. Depositors may make withdrawals, and deposits may be made in sums of $1 and multiples. Interest of 2 per cent is to be allowed on deposits. Depositors are to have the privilege of buying government bonds of $20, $40, $70 and $100 denominations at par.

"Poison Squad" Grows Fat on Sulphured Fruit Diet

Berkeley.—It was with a sigh of regret that the half dozen premedical students of the university, members of the "poison" squad, gave up their duties of eating sulphured fruits and preserved meats for men of science to see how it affected their health.

No official report has been made by Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor of the university, who had charge of the investigations, as to their success, but the round faces and increased weight of the men of the squad, who have been living at 2323 Dana street, is an unofficial report of the success of the undertaking and a vindication of the California process of sulphuring fruits.

Indeed, so many pounds did the students gain by eating the cured fruits that they protested to Dr. Taylor to include in the government expense account an appropriation for new suits, as all the men had outgrown their clothing and were in first class physical condition.

The experiments were begun a year ago under the control of the referee board appointed by former President Roosevelt during the height of the agitation over the curing and drying of fruits by the sulphur process.

D. R. Powell, a member of the squad, seems to be in better physical condition this year for the grilling tennis matches against Stanford than he was last year, when he was not eating the prepared fruits.

An official report will be sent to the department of agriculture of the United States Government by the referee board as to the results of the investigations when they are completed.

"Earthquake Clause" Does Not Save Insurance Welchers

San Francisco.—The most complete and decisive victory in the history of local insurance litigation growing out of the great fire of 1906 was won by merchants Sunday when a jury in the United States Circuit Court, carrying its deliberations into the Sabbath morning, decided that the "earthquake clause" in 35 policies did not prevent policyholders from collecting their insurance.

A most elaborate defense to the suits was offered by the "welching" insurance companies, but from the sweeping verdict rendered by the jury it is evident that the jurors rejected the defense. It was contended by the insurance companies that the fires were caused by an earthquake and they relied upon the "earthquake clauses" to escape liability.

The total sum awarded to the plaintiffs is $268,446.68, of which $56,616.70 is interest. Had a settlement been reached before the litigation was begun the interest could have been saved by the defendant companies.

Of the amount awarded by the jury the California Wine Association will receive $242,466.07, the hardware firm of Baker & Hamilton, $18,376.50; Marie Tucker MacDonald, $3,801.44, and Mt. Shasta Mineral Springs Co., $3,802.67.

The companies which lose the suit are the Commercial Union Insurance, the Alliance Assurance and the Palatine Insurance. These declined to compromise, and for redress the merchants carried the question into the Federal Courts.

Pacific Coast and New England Will Furnish the Fruit

Washington.—The splendid prospects for fruit in New England and the Pacific Coast States almost counterbalance the poor showing of the Central States, where early frost got in telling work, according to a report made public by the Department of Agriculture on general crop growth. The condition of the apple crop is reported to be more than eight points below last year or 53.0 as compared with a normal condition. The 10-year average for apples is 69.8. In New England and on the Pacific Coast the crop promises to be immense, but in such big apple States as Ohio and Missouri there will be only about one-third of a crop.

On the other hand the peach crop, due to the excellent prospects in such States as Georgia and Delaware, promises to be larger than last year, and a 10-year average of 65.0. The Central States will produce a poor crop, it appears. Frost evidently nipped the briar-blossoms, for the condition of blackberries was estimated at 80.0, as compared with 90.0 last year, and for the last four years.

Raspberries were estimated at 79.2, as compared with 88.4 last year and 82.1 the four-year average.

The watermelon and the canteloupe crops will be slightly off, it appears, as the former were estimated at 70.4, as compared with 81.5 a year ago, and the latter 77.6, as compared with 81.8 a year ago.

Farm Life Not Always a Dream of Pastoral Peace

Pittsburg.—Some of the perils of farm life are reported in the news dispatches received from rural communities in this and neighboring States. F. W. Dubbs, a farmer near Lisbon, O., had a battle with an infuriated bull, and with one arm broken, managed to climb into a tree. He was found some time later, with the bull pawing the ground beneath and snorting with rage. After the animal was driven away it was found that Dubbs had died in the tree.

Warren Wrax, a farmer near Tilden, was instantly killed by a young colt that kicked him in the stomach.

At Greenville, Pa., a pet horse bit off the index finger of Mrs. Jacob Uhler's right hand while she was feeding the animal.

"HIGHER UPS" OF SUGAR TRUST FACE PRISON TERMS

Success Crowns Government's Effort to Convict Company Officials.

New York.—Charles R. Heike, the white-haired secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, was convicted on one count of an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the Government of customs duty on sugar.

Ernest W. Gerbracht, former superintendent of the Williamsburg (Brooklyn) refinery, was convicted on all six counts.

For James F. Bendernagel, former cashier of the refinery, the jury stood 7 to 5 for acquittal. He will be tried again.

The verdict was announced after the jurors had deliberated for almost 12 hours. They had labored earnestly from time to time, sending out for transcripts of the testimony, particularly that referring to Heike. But it was Bendernagel's case that caused the long sessions. Over his fate more than 20 ballots were taken.

This ends the Government's second attempt to imprison the group of men responsible for the vast underweighing frauds to which the so-called trust virtually has confessed by the restitution of more than $2,000,000 in duty. Heike is the highest official of the company upon whom blame has been fixed, and he now faces a possible sentence of two years in the Federal penitentiary and a fine of $10,000. He is 65 years old and broken in health and spirit. His counsel, in summing up, declared repeatedly that a prison term meant nothing less than death.

Convicted on all six counts, Gerbracht can be sentenced to 12 years in prison, with a maximum fine of $10,000. He is 63 years old.

Big Dam Nearing Completion.

Portland.—The water for irrigating next year's crops on 15,000 acres of land around Orland will be stored in a great reservoir created by the East Park dam during the coming winter. W. W. Schlecht, the project engineer in charge of the United States Government Reclamation Service at Orland, has just returned from the East Park reservoir, and reports that the big dam is almost completed. The crest along the top of the dam is 220 feet long and 160 feet wide. The contractor expects to have the entire work about the dam and spillways completed by July 1st. An automobile excursion from here to East Park is planned for June 18th to show the main features of the project to prominent visitors, who are expected to be present on that date.

Epidemic Killing Gophers.

Woodland.—Numerous instances are reported here of places where many dead gophers are found on top of the ground, where there has been no irrigation this season and where there has been no poison put out. W. H. Browning found many dead gophers and some squirrels that seemed so dazed that they made no effort to get away. As he had neither flooded his fields nor put out poison, the only plausible explanation is that these rodents are being destroyed by some epidemic. Farmers are wondering if the bubonic plague has broken out among rodents in Yolo county.

Gillett Ignores Fight Protests.

Sacramento.—The expected postcard flood has struck the Governor's office. Hundreds of postals bearing the legend "Stop that fight. This is the twentieth century," have reached Governor Gillett from points about Chicago. One card came from Los Angeles and the writer implored the Governor "to pay no attention to silly protests, but to give us men of flesh and blood a chance." The Governor has already said that he will pay no attention to communications of this kind.

Will Use Oil For Fuel.

Portland.—The Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railroad has closed a three year contract with the Associated Oil Company of California and will use oil fuel in all its locomotives. The burners are now being converted. The entire North Bank system will be using oil fuel by September. This is the biggest oil contract placed in the northwest in recent years and will call for several billion barrels.

Spring Destroyed Child's Eye.

Berkeley.—The sudden snapping of a curtain spring in the hands of nine-year-old Leona Benning, daughter of Eugene S. Benning, a candy manufacturer of Berkeley, resulted in the loss of the left eye of the child. The metallic spring struck the child full on the eyeball inflicting a wound that necessitated the removal of the optic.

Gage Received by King.

London.—Henry T. Gage of California, the new American minister to Portugal, on Monday presented his credentials to King Manuel, who received him cordially.

Here You Will Find a Resume of Happenings in Almost Every Part of the Earth.

Kansas City.—Lightning killed Mrs. Charles Hicks, and property estimated to be worth $100,000 was destroyed during a severe storm. Three and a quarter inches of rain fell.

Atlantic, Iowa.—H. H. Morton, a traveling salesman for an Omaha grocery firm, was served with formaldehyde by mistake for mineral water in a drugstore here and died immediately.

Juneau, Alaska.—One hundred and seven seal skins were sold in Sitka a few days ago for $31 each. Last year the price in Sitka was $17, the increase in value being due to the decrease in the fur seal herds and in the catch.

Washington.—Sixty million feet of mercantile timber has been added to the Datil National forest in New Mexico, and nearly 100,000 acres will soon be thrown open to settlement by a proclamation which President Taft signed last week.

London.—The Standard says that the notorious "Mad Mullah," Mohammed Abdullah, who long troubled Great Britain and Italy in Somaliland, was captured in a recent fight at Hardega by friendly natives and shot. His death has left his followers without a leader.

Washington.—President Taft nominated William D. Crum of South Carolina to be Minister Resident and Consul-General at Monrovia, Liberia. Crum is the negro whose appointment by Mr. Roosevelt as Collector of the Port of Charleston, S. C., raised a storm of protest in the South.

New York.—Aviation is still too dangerous and uncertain an occupation to receive recognition at the hands of the insurance men. Representatives of both life and accident companies here have issued statements in answer to inquiries, declaring that under no circumstances will they accept aerial navigators as risks.

Paris.—Vital statistics made public show a decrease in the birth rate in France. The births during 1909 were 770,000, as against 792,000 in the preceding year. Since 1851 the population of the Republic has been increased by 3,000,000 only, while the population of Germany in the same period has been increased by 30,000,000.

Middletown, N. Y.—A petition has been sent to the Postoffice Department at Washington asking that the village of Turner be changed to Harriman in honor of the late E. H. Harriman, whose country place was nearby. A new $25,000 Erie station has been promised the village by Mrs. Harriman in consideration of the change.

New York.—Surrogate Ketchum of Brooklyn has ruled that a will put together with a pin is void. For this reason he has refused to probate the will of Warren B. Field, a manufacturer of chewing gum whose estate is valued at nearly a million dollars. The property was willed to the American Society for Psychological Research with the exception of a $300 annuity for a sister, his sole surviving relative.

Pittsburg.—With his neck broken and supporting his head with both hands to keep it from falling limp on, to his shoulder, Elmer Grover, 23 years old, walked home with the assistance of two companions after he had fallen from a street car. When taken to a hospital later the physicians said the man might live, although the spinal column was broken near the base of the skull.

New York.—Wholesale meat dealers of this city are selling 587,662 pounds of wood a year to the butchers as meat, according to an estimate made by Clement J. D. Driscoll, chief of the bureau of weights and measures. The wood is in the form of skewers which are put into the carcasses. The value of this amount of meat at an average of 16 cents a pound would be close to $100,000, which comes out of the pocket of the consumer eventually.

Worcester, Mass.—A new eastern record for a "no hit no run" game in baseball was made here a few days ago, it is claimed, when Harry Wormwood of the Fall River team of the New England league, pitched for 11 innings against Worcester without allowing a hit or a run. Fall River won, 1 to 0. The world's record for such a game is accredited to Pitcher Torrey of the Winchester, Ky., team in the Blue Grass league, who, on May 10, 1909, pitched 17 innings without allowing a hit or a run.

DYSPEPSIA
"Having taken your wonderful Cascarets for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to Cascarets for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail, and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year."

American Woman's Display.
An interesting story of how an American woman duped the court of Russia has just leaked out. At these royal balls wealth and luxury run riot and the Russians are very proud of their display, says the Delineator. To be outdone by a foreigner is, to them, almost a disgrace.

At a recent court ball an American woman, now a duchess in England, outdid the Russians one season, making a tremendous sensation so loaded down was she with her great tiara and high dog collar, her stomach and ropes of famous pearls that she rivaled even the empress. Her gems drew admiration from every one. This proved a great embarrassment to the English ambassador, who realized that a serious breach of etiquette it was.

It was some time afterward that a jeweler in Paris, bursting with pride over the achievement, told how he had gone to London to make imitations of the celebrated jewels, especially to be worn at this St. Petersburg ball, the duchess being afraid to take the genuine ones upon such a long journey.

Germany took an industrial census in 1907 and recently made public figures showing 4,025,591 industrial concerns, employing 14,348,389 persons, of whom 3,510,466 were women. Railroad, postal, telegraph and telephone employes were not counted.

The Wireless Age.
Our history, in moving on, Has turned another page Upon the top of which we note The words, A Wireless Age.

The farmer's wisdest cattle will Securely graze inside The new barbed-wireless fences which Some genius will provide.

The fowls, unhampered by the sight Of firm, unyielding guard, Most happily will strut within A chicken-wireless yard.

Our pet canary-bird will sing More sweetly, I'll engage, And cheerfully will hop about Within a wireless cage.

Then, in our windows, to debar Mosquitoes gaunt and lean, And flies, and other insects, too, We'll have a wireless screen.

And, best of all, we ought to find, Before this page is full, That when it comes to pulling wires, There'll be no wires to pull.—Century Magazine.

How It Happened.
"Good for you, old chap! That's the first time I ever saw you make a home run."
"Yes, it's the first hit for four bases I ever made. I'll tell you about it. You know I'm subject to St. Vitus' dance. Well, I had made up my mind not to strike at that ball, but one of my paroxysms came on just then, and before I knew what I was doing I had lammed the ball clear to kingdom come."

People Are Different.
Chief Justice Taney, driving through the Tennessee mountains, once broke one of the shafts of his buggy. A small colored boy came riding by on a mule. The justice hailed him. "Here, my boy," he said, "can you help me fix my buggy?"
"Sure, boss," answered the boy, and cutting a hickory withe, he soon fixed the shaft so that it was quite serviceable.

"Well, well," said the learned judge, "now why couldn't I have done that?"
"I dunno, boss," replied his "first aid," "unless some folks knows more than others."—Success Magazine.

Her Excuse.
"Bertha, my dear, I have been looking over your writing exercises. Your orthography is atrocious. You don't seem to know how to spell even the simplest words."
"Spelling, papa, is purely arbitrary. Words were made before the alphabet was."

Voice of the People.
"Colonel! what will be the overshadowing issues of the next campaign?"
"Well, I can't tell you about that, of course, until a few of us have got together and had our little conference."

The man who uses his head is the one who gets there with both feet.

Our Love for Music.
It is true that this is not a demonstrative nation, nor a demonstrative generation, says A. E. Thomas in Success Magazine. Yet there are many men and women still living whose memories run back to the days when Jenny Lind, the "Swedish Nightingale," was the idol of the hour; who can remember the furore that her singing aroused. Perhaps there are still living some of the men whose hands took the horse from her carriage and dragged her in triumph from old Castle Garden to the hotel where she lived. At all events, they can remember that it was done, and perhaps they saw it, even if they did not help to do it.

We do not take the horses from the carriages of prima donnas any more. The prima donnas now ride in costly motor cars, and gasoline cannot be removed with the same facility as horses. Even if the singers still used horses, it is doubtful if we should interfere. But, though our ways of showing it are less ingenious, we are still as ardently the slaves of the great magician as ever we were. We still greet with keenest interest the cabled announcements of the discovery of some new wonder-worker in the field of song or instrumental music.

No, neither the magicians nor our love of their magic is dead. We may be no longer moved either to behave like children in our wonder at the wizardry, nor to credit old wives' tales regarding its origin. But we still love above all things to sit beneath the old, yet ever new spell of the personal mastery of the great musicians and, though we are less demonstrative and more sophisticated than our forebears, we are by no means stodgy or stoical when the enchantment has done its work.

Changed Front.
"She changed front on the suffragette question."
"I did not know that, though I knew she had changed front on the fashion fads."
"How was that?"
"She used to be very buxom, but she adopted the flat shape when it came in fashion."
Pleasures of Wisdom.
"Your boy likes to go to school better than he used to," said the relative.
"Yes," answered Mr. Bliggins. "He's getting old enough to enjoy learning a lot of things so that he can come home and dazzle me with his superior knowledge."—Washington Star.

Not On Its Good Behavior.
"When you're short of breath, Johnny," explained Mrs. Lapsing, "and have a pain in your chest, it's because your diagram is not performing its functions properly."

The Pope as Newspaper Reader.
There is no place where the scissors are employed more methodically and to more scientific purpose on newspapers than at the Vatican. A regular press clipping bureau is now in full activity at that great ecclesiastical center. All the Italian newspapers are gone through by a skilled Italian newspaper man, who cuts out everything he thinks the Pope ought to see.

These cuttings go to Cardinal Merry del Val, who reduces the batch of selections by marking with blue pencil the really important ones. These latter, only, the Pope reads. Then, four clerks, who are acquainted with the languages of France, Germany, England and Spain, perform similar work with the leading newspapers of those countries. After that the extracts are translated into Latin before perusal by Pius X. The bishops of every Roman Catholic diocese are also said to forward clippings from papers published within their jurisdiction likely to interest the holy father.

All this mass of newspaper material is pasted in volumes, bound separately, according to subject matter and carefully indexed.

Hunting Truffles as Sport.
Quite apart from the interest of fungi to the naturalist the temptation cannot here be resisted to refer to a method of procuring one kind of fungus, which might take rank among the minor sports. This is the fashion, originating in France, of procuring the truffle by the aid of swine and hounds. More ill-assorted sporting companions can hardly be imagined. The truffle grows underground. Pigs are particularly fond of these delicacies and, guided by the scent, will discover them by rooting in the earth. After the discovery of the truffles the dogs are employed to beat back the pigs and prevent them from devouring the spoil. And every quality dear to the sportsman of skill and judgment is needed to control and obtain the desired result from the efforts of a herd of swine and a pack of hounds.—London Outlook.

A merchant advertises because he wants your trade. He will make it worth your while to patronize him.

His Name Fitted Him.
Not very long ago a wealthy Washington gentleman had a new valet whose name was somewhat of a puzzle to him. The initials were V. D. C. Cheney, and his employer wondered at times what Cheney's name could be. One morning he inquired.
"It's like this, sir," replied the valet, who happened to be an Englishman. "My mother dearly loved to read novels when she was young, and some of the names stuck in her memory. One was valet de chambre. She never knew just exactly what it meant, but the French sounded well, and she had me christened that. It fits me, don't you thing so, sir?"—National Magazine.

New York's First Ferry.
Cornelius Dirksen was the first official ferryman on the Island of Manhattan. The mooring place on the Manhattan side was about where Water street crosses the present Peck slip. He started the system in 1637. Passengers who wanted to be rowed over blew a horn for the skipper if he chanced to be absent when they arrived. From Dirksen's skiff grew the present ferry system of the city.

Altitude.
"Walter," said the man at the table in the far corner of the restaurant, "this piece of steak is decidedly too ancient, in spots."
"Our beefsteak is all alike to-day, sir," stilly answered the waiter, "and you are the only man that has found anything wrong with it."
"Probably that's because I am a fast eater," rejoined the other; "I hit only the high places."—Chicago Tribune.

An Impossibility.
"Farmers can't get farm hands no more."
"Go to the crowded cities. Take some moving pictures of life on the farm and exhibit them."
"How can we take moving pictures of life on the farm? We can't ketch the hired man in motion."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

There Was a Reason.
"Willie, I am glad to see you chewing your victuals so thoroughly," said the frugal elderly relative with whom he was dining.
"Yes, gran'ma," answered Willie; "I'm makin' 'em go as far as I kin."

Governor Will Stop the Fight

Evidently the many petitions and the thousands of post cards that have been flooding the daily mail of Governor Gillett have been having some effect in moving him to action against the Jeffries-Johnson fight scheduled for July 4th. Many of the petitions coming from prominent men of the State gave added influence to the movement. We quote herewith from Thursday's Call some of the statement by those interested.

Governor Gillett in his letter to Attorney-General Webb says in part:

I believe that you should investigate the prize fight matter at once and take such legal steps as may be proper, in your judgment, if warranted by the facts, in presenting the case to the court for its decision and ask to have all interested parties enjoined pending the hearing. Our people have the right to demand that prize fighting shall cease in this state, and it will if our present laws are enforced.

If "sparring exhibitions," as permitted by our laws, make fights where men are killed, beaten into insensibility and their faces "cut in ribbons" lawful acts, then it is time that the legislature should interfere and make such exhibitions and contests a felony.

What I have said concerning the Jeffries-Johnson fight applies equally to the Kaufman-Langford fight. Serve notice upon the principals of this fight that they will be arrested if they carry out their fight.

Attorney-General Webb states:
 The governor has the right and power to command this office and it is the duty of this office to obey. I shall take such action as the law warrants to prevent the fight being held.

The fact of the matter is, that if this contest is one in which the contestants enter the ring with the avowed intention of knocking each other out, to use a fighting term, it is a prize fight against the law. If they do not contemplate knocking each other out I apprehend it is a fake and ought to be stopped.

It is my intention to institute proceedings in the state courts. Just what action I will take I can not say at present, but I say emphatically that the fight will not be held if it can be prevented by law. The chief executive of the state has given me orders and I will carry them out to the letter.

The statements below from Mayor McCarthy give a good idea of the character of that man. He was very much angered when, in Chicago, he saw the bulletins announcing that Governor Gillett had decided to stop the fight.

"I am running San Francisco. I am taking no orders from Gillett nor his attorney general. You can bet your last dollar that the big fight will be held in my town just as advertised."

"I would like to ask the governor of that state," he continued, "if he thinks he can step into my town and tell us what we must do and what we shan't do?"

"We know what we want and we get what we want when we want it. The big thing that we want just now is the scrap, which I say to you will be fought in San Francisco on July 4, governors, attorney generals and all the rest of them to the contrary notwithstanding."

The San Francisco burgomasfer had no more than issued the edict when he was asked what he would do if the national guard of California should be ordered out to stop the big mill.

"I tell you we run San Francisco," he replied. "We run it to suit ourselves. We have policemen who do what we tell them to do. The best bet of the day is that somebody will be badly licked in San Francisco on July 4, and by that I mean either Jeffries or Johnson."

"Just watch me. Will there be a fight? You bet your life and just as advertised," was the final comment of Mayor McCarthy.

BRYAN ON LOCAL OPTION

In view of the popular demand for a local option law in California, the following deliverance by William J. Bryan will be of interest to our readers. It is part of an address delivered by Mr. Bryan in Chicago last month under the auspices of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America. Among other things Mr. Bryan said:

"The first proposition that I want to lay down on the question of legislation is that the people have the right to determine under what conditions liquor shall be sold and used. That is fundamental. I believe in the right of a majority to rule. I believe that the majority have a right to act on this subject as on every other subject. Wherever you have government there must be a source of power. Whenever a government acts, the action must come from somebody or somewhere, and wherever you find government the authority is either in the majority or in the minority. There is no escape from that proposition. There are only two sources from which authority and government can come. One is from the majority and the other from the minority. A great many governments have drawn their authority from the minority. We have had unlimited monarchies, where the king was the source of power and asked nobody. Then we have had limited monarchies, where the king was the source of power, but asked somebody what he might do. We have had aristocracies, where a few would control, and the voice of the few would outweigh the voice of the many. We have had aristocracies based upon different foundations. We have had, first, the aristocracy of birth. People have ruled because they were born of rulers. But those aristocracies are passing away. Then we have had aristocracies that were based upon intelligence, upon educational qualifications. Then we have had aristocracies based upon property qualifications. We have had aristocracies that were intellectual, we have had aristocracies that were plutocratic. But, my friends, if we concede that a minority wanting to use liquor shall outvote and outweigh a majority that do not want the saloon established in a community, if they insist that it is right for the minority in that case to rule, upon what does that aristocracy rest as a foundation? We have had aristocracies of birth and of blood and of brain, and of pocketbook, but when you say that a minority opposed to anti-liquor legislation shall have the voice and rule against a majority against them, you have an aristocracy based on appetite, where a man only has to be thirsty to belong to the ruling power.

Aristocracy of Beer
 I don't like aristocracies of any kind. I am opposed to aristocracies of birth. I am opposed to a monopoly of intelligence. I am opposed to plutocracy. But, my friends, if I had to decide, I would rather have aristocracy of money and aristocracy of brain or an aristocracy of blood, than to live under an aristocracy of beer. I do not regard it as necessary to proceed to submit argument in support of the doctrine that the majority have a right to rule, but I want to apply this doctrine. I am not going to discuss the liquor question in regard to the legislation, in detail, outside of my own state, because when you come to discuss the details and the particular legislation you find conditions different states and community. I am willing that the people who are nearest to a question shall decide what is best. I am going to lay down a proposition that I believe to be a defensible one anywhere and everywhere.

Local Option Units
 There is a great deal of discussion now about the unit. In one place they have a town unit. In another place they have a township unit. In another place they have a county unit. And nobody, I suppose, disputes that you can have a state unit. I believe in some places they have a ward unit. In some places they allow people in any contiguous territory to exclude the saloon. Now, I am not going to enter into a discussion with you as to which is the best unit. I believe in them all, and there is no reason why you shouldn't have all of them. If you ask me if I am in favor of allowing people in a block to keep a saloon out, I say yes. If you ask me if I am in favor of allowing the people of a ward to keep the saloon out, I say yes. If you ask me if I am in favor of county option also, I say yes, and I am in favor of state option and national option. (Applause.)

Now, I don't know who did that applauding, but I don't want you to labor under a misunderstanding. When I say I am in favor of county option and state option and national option, do not understand me to say that I am in favor of the exercising of that option in any particular way in any particular place. I am speaking now for the right of the people to rule. I believe that the larger unit always controls the smaller one, and that everywhere the smaller unit has a right to act, except as restrained by the larger unit. There is no reason why you should not have township option as well as city option and county option all in the same state. There is no reason why you should not allow people everywhere and anywhere to act on this question.

Logic of Local Option

Your fallacy is this, that you talk about fairness in regard to saloons, whereas, if you will read the lexicon of the saloon-keeper, there are two words that do not appear, "fairness" and "justice." There is no fairness or justice about the saloon, and you might as well understand that words can't be used of the liquor business. A saloon at the best is a nuisance, and never tolerated except as a necessary nuisance. Nobody defends the saloon. They apologize for it, but they never defend it. You can't find a state in this Union or a part of a state where the people asking for a saloon ever urge it as a moral center, an educational institution or an economic asset. It is understood that the saloon is not a blessing. Go and examine the homes of your great liquor dealers, the rich ones, and see how near they are to a saloon. Go with a petition and ask them to join with you in putting a saloon near their residences, and they are the last ones to do it. They will put a saloon by the house of a poor man and not only deprive his property of value, but run the risk of ruining those about the saloon, but they do not put it near their own homes.

The saloon is not a good thing. It is a center of vice and crime. It is the first place a police officer goes when he is looking for a criminal and it is the first place closed when there is a riot in the town. It is a bureau of information on every vice and only tolerated for fear, if you close it, you will have something worse than the saloon.

Let the People Rule

I believe that every man has not only his duty as an individual but his duty as a citizen, and that as a citizen he must meet the responsibilities of citizenship and conscientiously act on every proposition affecting the liquor question as he acts on other propositions, and that the first thing to admit is the right of the people to act on this question.

Don't ask whether they will act as you want them to or not. That is not the question. I am in favor of free government, whether a Republican party is in power or a Democratic party, or any other party. I am in favor of it because I believe in the right of the people to rule, and there is no question that I have advocated that I am not willing to submit to the people and let them settle it, no question that I have opposed that I am not willing to allow them to speak on, and as I believe in that for all other questions I believe in it too, on the liquor question, and that the people must say what shall be done in the jurisdiction that is under them on this subject, and that you can't have too many units.

Let every unit, large or small, act upon this subject, and don't consider it one-sided merely because you can close the saloon by a large unit and will not allow them to open it by a smaller one.

Remember that the saloon is on the defensive, that it is on the retreat, that nothing can be said in its favor, and that it must be content to be allowed to live under such restrictions as the people think are necessary for the protection of society.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The law requires each and every person who owns any class of property to annually, during the months of March, April or May, file a statement with the Assessor of his property in the county where the property is located. You should give a statement of all property owned by you on the FIRST MONDAY IN MARCH AT 12 O'CLOCK M.

If you hold mortgages or trust deeds against others, send in mortgage statement early in March; so proper deductions can be made showing amount due on each mortgage or trust deed on the first Monday of March at 12 o'clock m.

Remember, if you fail to give in your assessment you fail to comply with the law and may cause yourself, the Assessor and Tax Collector much trouble, and very likely cause yourself expense.

Pay Tax is now due and payable at the Assessor's office or to a deputy. After the FIRST MONDAY IN JULY $1 will be added.

It is much more satisfactory to the Assessor, as well as to yourself, to have your assessment correct when you go to pay your taxes.
