De Night Before Chris'mas

By Hobo Poet

'Twas de night before Chris'mas, an' out on de pike
Not a rattler was stirrin', de 'boes had t' hike;
De glims in de winders was shinin' an' bright,
De yaps all was happy dat clear winter night.

Wid all kinds of good t'ings a-stuffin' deir gills,
Dey boddered deir nuts not a bit wid our ills;
W'ile out on de Pennay, from skypiece t' shank,
De 'boes all was freedin', wid no Christ t' tank.

Not a t'ing we'd been chewin' de whole livin' day,
Not a sign of a handout had moseyed our way;
But de cold, chillin' breezes was buttin' in right—
An' handin' us plenty o' shivers dat night.

Poor Slim, an' Canary, an' Idaho Dick,
Wid bread baskets em'ty, was feelin' some sick;
An' poor little Weezy, from down Ham'shire way,
Wid bowed head was settin', wid nottin' t' say.

De bunch sure was grumpy an' kickin' deir luck,
An' t'inkin' o' Chris'mas widout any chuck;
A-t'inkin' o' geezers—jes bums like oursel's—
Wid neat in deir hangouts an' grub on deir shel's.

We t'ought o' de Willies a-pullin' de cork
An' guzzlin' de bubbly down east in New York;
Dey owned all dese rattlers dat us guys had built,
De gits all de rakeoff an' w'as gits de jilt.

An' w'ile we was t'inkin' de minutes skiddeed,
A'n poor little Weezy kep' on wid 'is brood;
De win' kep' a-howlin' hell bent down de road,
An' wid ey'ry puffin' some colder it growed.

We noticed dat Weezy was shiv'rin' some more,
De win' w'istlin' t'rough de ol' bennie he wore;
At last 'e looked up an' 'e says to us geeks:
"I t'ink dat it's time dat youse mugs beat yer sneaks."

We ast 'im w'at alled 'im. He says, "Nottin' 'tall;
Excep' dat I feel dat I've made me las' stall.
De nex' train dat stops at dis ol' water tank
Is goin' t' take care o' dis good-fer-nix Tank.

"De rattler I'm meanin' 'il scoop up de bunch
An' pack ye all off if ye don't get a hunch;
De bloke in de cab's got a scythe on 'is knee,
De plate on de tooter it reads, '23."

We seen how it was, an' we says, "'Tain't no use
In talkin' in dat way. Ye got no excuse
Fer gettin' cold feet an' goin' down in a sunk."
An' den we fixed up fer poor Weezy a bunk.

We made 'im flop out on a piece of a plank
We'd propped 'gainst de side o' de ol' water tank.
He says, "In de mornin' w'il get lots o' chuck—It's Chris'mas, an' God 'il not see us get stuck."

Den Weezy says, "Fellers, de man o' de rod
Has lost all 'is felt' in bot' Chris'mas an' God—
He's handed a lump jes' as nice as ye please;
But t' chaw it he sets on d' doorstep t' freeze."

Wid dat 'e stopped talkin' an' shet 'is trap tight,
De way 'e was w'eezin' it sure was a fright.
We covered 'im over wid all dat we had,
But spite o' de fact 'e was all t' de bad.

We gaddered around 'im t' keen up 'is cheer—
He w'ispered, "Mark, fellers: her w'istle I hear."
Den, pressin' 'is mitt 'neat' 'is bennie, he died—
An' poor little Weezy wason 'is las' ride.

PINE NEEDLES

A number of the parishoners of All Saints Church were at work on Wednesday afternoon planting small laurel trees to make a hedge around the church.

Miss Alta Adams has returned from her visit to San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Collyer are here for a brief visit.

The Misses Lynch and Wilson will be here for a visit, shortly.

The Pine Cone's appeal for clothing, etc., for the poor, has met with a generous response.
There is still time for further contributions.

That the Carmel public desires a first-class moving picture show was evidenced by the large attendance at the opening show Saturday night.

Mr. A. H. Roseboom, who was severely shaken up by a fall recently, is slowing recovering.

Mrs. Thomas, wife of the pastor of the Methodist church,
who has been ill at Pacific
Grove, will soon be out again.

Pardow Hooper and Walter Schaffner are here for ten days on a football training trip.

Otto and Harry Lachmund and "Budge" Everett are expected here this week from Palo Alto.

Mrs. Jos. G. Hooper leaves this month for a visit to relatives and friends in the East.
Her brother, J. V. Parnow, accompanies her.

Mrs. J. Hunter Harrison and two children are here for a fortnight. They are in the cottage formerly occupied by the Willards.

Mrs. Grace MacGowan Cooke and daughter Catherine will spend the holidays in Carmel.

Rev. D. C. Gardner and family are here from Stanford University for a fortnight's stay.

Mrs. Harvey Wickham's will be about shortly, her sprained ankle growing stronger rapidly.

All of this year's officers of All Saints Church have been re-elected for 1916.

Many Women in Educational Work

Hold High Administrative Positions

Women hold a large number of executive educational positions in the United States, according to the Bureau of Education's directory, recently issued.

It shows that of the 12,000 conspicuous positions, largely of an administrative character, 2500 are held by women.

These include college presidents, state and county superintendents of education, directors of industrial schools, heads of departments in colleges and universities, directors of institutions for afflicted, and librarians.

Out of 622 colleges and universities, 24 are presided over by women. Of the nearly 3000 county superintendents, 500 are women. Of the seventy institutions for the blind, fifteen are directed by women. Of seventy-five state schools for the deaf, ten are under the leadership of women, and of the twenty-two private institutions of the same character, sixteen have woman heads. Thirty-one private institutions for the feeble-minded, include twenty directed by women.

Fourteen of eighty-six leaders of industrial schools are women, and forty-eight of the 200 schools of art are in charge of women. Out of 1300 public and society libraries, women supervise 1075.

There are thirty-three bureau heads in the department of education; eleven are women.

A Successful Sale

The sale conducted by the Campfire Girls was held on Saturday afternoon. The studio wherein the sale was held was decorated, and had a festive holiday air.

Friends had been generous with donations of various kinds. In two hours the entire stock was disposed of, netting the tidy sum of $20.50.

The Junior Boys' Club rendered valuable assistance. The girls and the ladies in charge desire to thank all who contributed to the success of the affair.

Interesting Doings

On Sunday evening Professor Kern of the University of California gave a lecture, illustrated, on "Municipal Betterment" at the Methodist church. The Boys' Club, Junior Boys' Club and Campfire Girls attended in a body and learned much that will contribute to the betterment of Carmel.

The Carmel Missionary Society will meet on Wednesday, Dec. 29, at 3 o'clock, at the Presbyterian chapel. The subject, "The Mountain Whites," will be discussed. All interested are invited.

The Junior Boys' Club met last night. Arrangements will be made for a short "hike" under Mr. Joeselyn's leadership. Mr. A. H. Roseboom has invited the boys to see the moon through his telescope. The club would be pleased to receive games of a kind which a number can play at the same time.

Let Us Assert Ourselves

The people of a small town such as Carmel, are often unwilling to credit themselves with anything more than mediocrity. If one of their number develops more than common ability they often have no knowledge of it. If they begin to suspect it, rather than encourage they become hostile with jealousy.

The people of a small town are constantly admitting that their stores, their professional men, their schools, are inferior, and in doing this they admit their own individual inferiority. Every time a citizen of a small town goes away to trade he admits that his own town is inferior and that he himself as a member of that community is also inferior.

Why should not citizens of a small town co-operate in having the best stores, in educating their young men and women to the highest efficiency; why should they not cultivate it themselves? Why should a small town be considered second or third rate; not only by the outside world but by the residents of the town itself?

The foregoing is in the nature of a suggestion to the residents and business people of Carmel to assist themselves.

Let Us All Help to Make Someone Happy

This article was published last week, and will appear every Wednesday until Christmas—as a reminder

While pondering over the fine feeling established, the many favorable comments received and the noble impulses aroused, as the result of sending a bunch of poppies to San Francisco a short time ago, it has occurred to me that the approaching Christmas season of peace on earth, good will to men, would be an excellent time for the good people of Carmel to do something for those who are unfortunate and unhappy.

We are all more or less prosperous, all more or less up against it. There are none of us so bad off that we are unable to help a little someone who is infinitely worse off than we are.

If you only knew it, there are worthy folks right in our midst who are facing a very cheerless Christmas time indeed. There are reputable charitable organizations in San Francisco which are sending out strong appeals for clothing, food and money to carry on their work of succor and good cheer.

Have you an old dress, an old coat, a few forgotten toys. They can be used to keep some one warm, to make some child happy. If you have none of these, make a money donation, which may buy medicine for those who are ill.

You may leave or send your contributions of clothing, toys and money, to the Pine Cone office, to be distributed where they are most needed.

But—do it now!

Entertainment

Many friends and fond parents were on hand to witness the Christmas entertainment of the pupils of Sunset School last Friday afternoon.

All the children acted their parts well and no one "forgot." The "Santa Claus" of W. N. Dingle was strange and wonderful interpretation.

Much credit is due Mrs. S. E. White and Miss Betty Waud for the success of the affair.

Refreshments were provided by the parents.

The teachers desire, through the Pine Cone, to thank the mothers and Messrs. Devendorf, Overstreet, Leidig, Gillett and Dingle and all others who assisted to make the affair a success.

LEIDIG BROTHERS

The Secrets of Plant Life

Nearly all governments offer large rewards to chemists for inventions that can be used to make war more deadly and destructive. The only invention along such lines that will make war so absolutely fatal to any nation indulging in it, that in self-defense humanity will have to combine to abolish entirely all organized settlements of international disputes with bombs, fire and poison. Short of this no encouragement should be given human ingenuity to invent improved methods for turning warm, useful human bodies into cold, poisonous corpses.

Rather, should riches and honor be held in trust for those who can adapt the miracles accomplished by chemistry to the lessening of human ills and the lightening of human labor.

Some wonderful experiments made with plants by Dr. J. A. Smith of Cleveland suggest what prizes are in store for those who can probe the secrets of plant growth so that the food for the multitude may be augmented by methods of cultivation hitherto never attempted.

Surprising, indeed, are the results attained by this Cleveland chemist. His object is to discover the elements of plant life and to apply them artificially in developing the plant. Some day agriculture may be revolutionized by experiments carried on in the laboratory and food supplies grown by methods entirely different to those at present in use.

Dr. Smith has demonstrated a great scientific fact—that given the proper chemical food, the element in which a plant grows is im-material. Thus he has produced mammoth ears of corn from plants grown in wet cotton waste by supplying the chemical reagents proved by careful analysis to enter into the composition of the plant. Also he has used sifted and sterile river sand as a base for plant life and by supplying the proper chemical food has shown that vegetable life is not dependent on naturally rich and fertile soil—or in fact on any soil at all.

These isolated examples of what can be done with plant life are of course a long way from shifting the production of the world's food supplies from the field and meadow to the factory and the laboratory. But as an aid to agriculture, in making apparently useless lands a source of supply, they have a valuable and economic application.

While so much gray matter is being pressed into the service of the war, to make chemical combinations more deadly to human existence, it is pleasant to chronicle the success of one peace chemist in employing the same power to make plant life more prolific and so make human life easier. This is only touching the fringe of a complex problem; the practical results of these experiments may not attain their full significance in the life of the present generation.

But we cannot forget that from the rubbing of a piece of amber with a silk cloth by a Greek slave sprang the present mighty force now running more than half the machinery that does the work of the world.

Christmas Service

Rev. D. Charles Gardner, chaplain of Stanford University, will conduct the Christmas service at All Saints. Service begins at 11 o'clock. Visitors are cordially invited.

M. DeNeale Morgan is holding a holiday exhibition of small water-colors and monotypes in her studio, Lincoln st., near Ocean ave., from 1 to 5 o'clock every afternoon, December 14 to 24.
