^a 1962 c. 19

CHAPTER 1.01THE CONSTITUTION OF MONTSEERRAT*PREAMBLE

Whereas the people of Montserrat are entitled to preserve for themselves and future generations the fundamental rights and freedoms to which they are entitled by virtue of their inherent dignity as persons and as citizens of a free and democratic society;

Believing in the concept of true democracy with free and fair elections;

Acknowledging that their society is founded on social justice, moral and spiritual principles, democratic values and respect for fundamental human rights and the equitable distribution of resources, the rule of law and the supremacy of God;

Recalling their desire for a Constitution which reflects these values and their aspirations for social justice, economic empowerment and political advancement;

Recognising their inherent right to pursue their hopes, visions, aspirations and their right to self-determination;

Now, therefore, the following provisions have effect as the Constitution of Montserrat.

PART IFUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS OF THE INDIVIDUAL*Fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual

2. Whereas the realisation of the right to self-determination must be promoted and respected in conformity with the provisions of the Charter of the United Nations;

Whereas every person in Montserrat is entitled to the fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual, that is to say, the right, without distinction of any kind, such as sex, sexual orientation, race, colour, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, association with a national minority, property, birth or other status, but subject to respect for the rights and freedoms of others and for the public interest, to each and all of the following, namely—

- (a) life, liberty, security of the person and the protection of the law;
- (b) freedom of conscience and of religion, of expression, and of assembly and association;
- (c) protection for his or her private and family life, the privacy of his or her home and other property and from deprivation of property save in the public interest and on payment of fair compensation, the subsequent provisions of this Part shall have effect for the purpose of affording protection to the aforesaid rights and freedoms, and related rights and freedoms, subject to such limitations of that protection as are contained in those provisions, being limitations designed to ensure that the enjoyment of the said protected rights and freedoms by any individual does not prejudice the rights and freedoms of others or the public interest.

Protection of right to life

3. (1) Every person's right to life shall be protected by law.
- (2) No person shall be deprived intentionally of his or her life.
- (3) A person shall not be regarded as having been deprived of his or her life in contravention of this section if he or she dies as the result of a lawful act of war or the use, to such extent and in such circumstances as are permitted by law, of such force as is no more than absolutely necessary—
- (a) for the defence of any person from violence;
 - (b) in order to effect a lawful arrest or to prevent the escape of a person lawfully detained; or
 - (c) in action lawfully taken for the purpose of suppressing a riot, insurrection or mutiny.

Protection from inhuman treatment

4. No person shall be subjected to torture or to inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

Protection from slavery and forced labour

5. (1) No person shall be held in slavery or servitude.
- (2) No person shall be required to perform forced or compulsory labour.
- (3) For the purposes of this section, "forced or compulsory labour" does not include—
- (a) any labour required in consequence of the sentence or order of a court;
 - (b) any labour required of a member of a disciplined force in pursuance of his or her duties as such or, in the case of a person who has conscientious objections to service in a naval, military or air force, any labour that that person is required by law to perform in place of such service;
 - (c) labour required of a person while he or she is lawfully detained that, though not required in consequence of the sentence or order of a court, is reasonably necessary in the interests of hygiene or for the maintenance of the place in which he or she is detained; or
 - (d) any labour required for the purpose of dealing with any situation arising during a period of public emergency or at a time when any other emergency or calamity threatens the well-being of the community, to the extent that the requiring of such labour is reasonably justifiable for that purpose.

Protection from arbitrary arrest or detention

6. (1) No person shall be deprived of his or her personal liberty save in any of the following cases where reasonably required and in accordance with a procedure prescribed by law—

- (a) in execution of the sentence or order of a court, whether established for Montserrat or some other country, in respect of a criminal offence of which he or she has been convicted or in consequence of his or her unfitness to plead to a criminal charge;
- (b) in execution of the order of a court punishing him or her for contempt of that court or of another court;
- (c) in execution of the order of a court made in order to secure the fulfilment of any obligation imposed on him or her by law;
- (d) for the purpose of bringing him or her before a court in execution of the lawful order of a court;
- (e) on reasonable suspicion that he or she has committed, is committing or is about to commit a criminal offence;
- (f) in the case of a minor, under the order of a court or with the consent of his or her parent or guardian, for the purpose of his or her education or welfare;
- (g) for the purpose of preventing the spread of an infectious or contagious disease;
- (h) in the case of a person who is, or is reasonably suspected to be, of unsound mind, addicted to drugs or alcohol, or a vagrant, for the purpose of his or her care or treatment or the protection of the community;
- (i) for the purpose of preventing the unlawful entry of that person into Montserrat or for the purpose of effecting the expulsion, extradition or other lawful removal from Montserrat of that person or the taking of proceedings relating thereto.

(2) Any person who is arrested or detained shall be informed promptly, in a language that he or she understands, of the reasons for his or her arrest or detention and of any charge against him or her.

(3) Any person who is arrested or detained shall have the right, at any stage and at his or her own expense, to retain and instruct without delay a legal representative of his or her own choice, and to hold private communication with him or her, and in the case of a minor he or she shall also be afforded a reasonable opportunity for communication with his or her parent or guardian; but when the person arrested or detained is unable to retain a legal representative of his or her own choice or be represented by a legal representative at the public expense, he or she may be represented, and hold private communication with, such person as a court may approve.

(4) Every person who is arrested shall be informed, in a language that he or she understands and as soon as possible after he or she is brought to a police station or other place of custody, of his or her rights under subsection (3); and that person shall also have the right, and shall be informed at the same time that he or she has the right, to remain silent and to have one person informed by the quickest practicable means of his or her arrest and whereabouts.

(5) Any person who is arrested or detained in such a case as is mentioned in subsection (1)(d) or (e) and who is not released shall be brought promptly before a judge or other officer authorised to exercise judicial power.

(6) If any person arrested or detained in such a case as is mentioned in subsection (1)(e) is not tried within a reasonable time he or she shall (without prejudice to any further proceedings that may be brought against him or her) be released either unconditionally or upon reasonable conditions, including in particular such conditions as are reasonably necessary to ensure that he or she appears at a later date for trial or for proceedings preliminary to trial.

(7) Any person who is unlawfully arrested or detained by any other person shall be entitled to compensation in respect of it from that other person.

Provisions to secure protection of law

7. (1) If any person is charged with a criminal offence, then, unless the charge is withdrawn, the case shall be afforded a fair hearing within a reasonable time by an independent and impartial court established by law.

(2) Every person who is charged with a criminal offence—

- (a) shall be presumed to be innocent until he or she is proved guilty according to law;
- (b) shall be informed promptly, in a language that he or she understands and in detail, of the nature and cause of the accusation against him or her;
- (c) shall be given adequate time and facilities for the preparation of his or her defence;
- (d) shall be permitted to defend himself or herself before the court in person or, at his or her own expense, by a legal representative of his or her own choice, or, when the interests of justice so require, by a legal representative at the public expense;
- (e) shall be afforded facilities to examine in person or by his or her legal representative the witnesses called by the prosecution before the court, and to obtain the attendance and carry out the examination of witnesses to testify on his or her behalf before the court on the same conditions as those applying to witnesses for the prosecution;
- (f) shall be permitted to have without payment the assistance of an interpreter if he or she cannot understand or speak the language used at the trial of the charge; and
- (g) shall, when tried before the High Court, have the right to trial by jury except as otherwise provided for by Act of the Legislature; and, except with his or her own consent, the trial shall not take place in his or her absence, unless he or she so behaves in the court as to render the continuance of the proceedings in his or her presence impracticable and the court has ordered him or her to be removed and the trial to proceed in his or her absence, or unless, having had reasonable notice of the hearing and of the nature of the offence charged, he or she is voluntarily absent from the proceedings.

(3) When a person is tried for any criminal offence, the accused person or any person authorised by him or her shall, if he or she so requires and subject to payment of such reasonable fee as may be prescribed by law, be given within a reasonable time after judgment a copy for the use of the accused of any record of the proceedings made by or on behalf of the court.

(4) No person shall be held to be guilty of a criminal offence on account of any act or omission that did not, at the time it took place, constitute such an offence, and no penalty shall be imposed for any criminal offence that is severer in degree or description than the maximum penalty that might have been imposed for that offence at the time when it was committed.

(5) No person who shows that he or she has been tried by a competent court for a criminal offence and either convicted or acquitted shall again be tried for that offence or for any other criminal offence of which he or she could have been convicted at the trial for that offence, save upon the order of a superior court in the course of appeal or review proceedings relating to the conviction or acquittal.

(6) No person shall be tried for a criminal offence if that person shows that he or she has been lawfully pardoned for that offence.

(7) No person who is tried for a criminal offence shall be compelled to give evidence at the trial.

(8) Any court or other adjudicating authority prescribed by law for the determination of the existence or extent of any civil right or obligation shall be established by law and shall be independent and impartial; and where proceedings for such a determination are instituted by any person before such a court or other adjudicating authority, the case shall be determined fairly within a reasonable time.

(9) All proceedings instituted in any court for the determination of the existence or extent of any civil right or obligation or to try any criminal charge, including the announcement of the decision of the court, shall be held in public.

(10) Nothing in subsection (9) shall prevent the court from excluding from the proceedings persons other than the parties and their legal representatives to such extent as the court—

- (a) may be empowered by law so to do and may consider strictly necessary or expedient in circumstances where publicity would prejudice the interests of justice, in interlocutory proceedings, or in the interests of the welfare of minors or the private lives of persons concerned in the proceedings; or
- (b) may be empowered or required by law so to do in the interests of defence, public safety, public order or public morality.

(11) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene—

- (a) subsection (2)(a) to the extent that the law in question imposes on any person charged with a criminal offence the burden of proving particular facts;
- (b) subsection (2)(e) to the extent that the law in question imposes conditions that must be satisfied if witnesses called to testify on behalf of an accused person are to be paid their expenses out of public funds;
- (c) subsection (5) to the extent that the law in question authorises a court to try a member of a disciplined force for a criminal offence notwithstanding any trial and conviction or acquittal of that member under the disciplinary law of that force; but any court so trying such a member and convicting him or her shall in sentencing him or her to any punishment take into account any punishment imposed on him or her under that disciplinary law.

(12) Every person convicted of a criminal offence by a court shall have the right to have his or her conviction or sentence reviewed by a higher court, and the exercise of this right, including the grounds on which it may be exercised, shall be governed by law.

(13) When a person has by a final decision been convicted of a criminal offence and when subsequently his or her conviction has been reversed, or he or she has been pardoned, on the ground that a new or newly discovered fact shows conclusively that there has been a miscarriage of justice, the person who has suffered punishment as a result of such conviction shall be compensated according to law, unless it is proved that the non-disclosure of the unknown fact in time is wholly or partly attributable to him or her.

Protection of right of prisoners to humane treatment

8. (1) All persons deprived of their liberty (“prisoners”) have the right to be treated with humanity and with respect for the inherent dignity of the human person.

(2) Save where the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health or the administration of justice otherwise require, unconvicted prisoners shall be segregated from convicted prisoners; and every unconvicted prisoner shall be entitled to be treated in a manner appropriate to his or her status as such.

(3) Juvenile prisoners shall be segregated from adult prisoners and every juvenile prisoner shall be treated in a manner appropriate to his or her age and legal status and, if he or she is an unconvicted prisoner and unless he or she is earlier released, be entitled to have any criminal proceedings against him or her pursued with the greatest possible expedition.

Protection of private and family life and privacy of home and other property

9. (1) Every person has the right to respect for his or her private and family life, his or her home and his or her correspondence.

(2) Except with his or her consent, no person shall be subjected to the search of his or her person or property or the entry by others on his or her premises.

(3) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health, town or country planning, the development of mineral resources, or the development or utilisation of any other property in such a manner as to promote the public benefit;
- (b) for the purpose of protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons;
- (c) for the prevention or detection of offences against the criminal law or the customs law;
- (d) to enable an officer or agent of the Government, a local government authority or a body corporate established by law for a public purpose to enter on the premises of any person in order to inspect those premises or anything on them for the purpose of any tax, rate or due or in order to carry out work connected with any property that is lawfully on those premises and that belongs to the Government or that authority or body corporate, as the case may be; or
- (e) to authorise, for the purpose of enforcing the judgment or order of a court, the search of any person or property by order of a court or the entry on such premises by such order.

Protection of right to marry

10. (1) Notwithstanding anything in section 16, every man and woman of marriageable age (as determined by or under any law) has the right to marry a person of the opposite sex and to found a family.

(2) No person shall be compelled to marry, that is to say, to do so without his or her free and full consent.

(3) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene subsection (1) to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) in the interests of public order, public morality or public health;
- (b) for regulating, in the public interest, the procedures and modalities of marriage; or
- (c) for protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons.

(4) Spouses shall be entitled to equal rights and shall be subject to equal responsibilities as between themselves and as regards their children both during marriage and, if the marriage is dissolved, on and after dissolution, but this equality of rights and responsibilities shall be subject to such arrangements or measures as may be agreed, or as may be ordered by a court, in the interests of their children.

Protection of freedom of conscience and of religion

11. (1) Except with his or her consent, no person shall be hindered in the enjoyment of his or her freedom of conscience, and for the purposes of this section the said freedom includes freedom of thought and of religion, freedom to change one's religion or belief and freedom, either alone or in community with others, and both in public and in private, to manifest and propagate one's religion or belief in worship, teaching, practice and observance.

(2) Except with his or her consent (or, in the case of a minor, the consent of his or her parent or guardian) no person attending any place of education shall be required to receive religious instruction or to take part in or attend any religious ceremony or observance.

(3) No religious community or denomination shall be prevented from or hindered in providing religious instruction for persons of that community or denomination in the course of education provided by that community or denomination whether or not that community or denomination is in receipt of any government subsidy, grant or other form of financial assistance designed to meet, in whole or in part, the cost of such education.

(4) No person shall be compelled to take any oath which is contrary to his or her religion or belief or to take any oath in a manner which is contrary to his or her religion or belief.

(5) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a)* in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality or public health; or
- (b)* for the purpose of protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons, including the right to observe and practise any religion or belief without the unsolicited interference of persons professing any other religion or belief.

(6) Every person who is a parent or legal guardian has the right to respect for his or her liberty to ensure the religious and moral education of his or her children in conformity with his or her own convictions.

(7) References in this section to a religion shall be construed as including references to a religious denomination, and cognate expressions shall be construed accordingly.

Protection of right to education

12. (1) This section is without prejudice to section 11.

(2) Every child of the appropriate age, as provided by law, shall be entitled to receive primary and secondary education which shall, subject to subsection (3), be free.

(3) Every person who is the parent or legal guardian of a child shall be entitled to have his or her child (of whatever age) educated, at his or her own expense unless a law otherwise provides, in a private school (that is to say, a school other than one established by a public authority) and, in such a school, to ensure the religious and moral education of his or her child in accordance with his or her own convictions.

(4) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene subsection (3) to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society and to the extent that the law makes provision requiring private schools, as a condition of their being allowed to operate and on terms that are no more onerous than are applicable to schools established by a public authority, to satisfy—

- (a) such minimum educational standards (including standards relating to the qualifications of teaching staff and other staff) as may be prescribed by or under that or any other law; and
- (b) such minimum standards imposed in the interests of public order, public morality or public health as may be so prescribed.

Protection of freedom of expression

13. (1) Except with his or her consent, no person shall be hindered in the enjoyment of his or her freedom of expression, and for the purposes of this section the said freedom includes freedom to hold opinions and freedom to receive and impart ideas and information without interference, and freedom from interference with his or her correspondence and other means of communication.

(2) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality or public health;
- (b) for the purpose of protecting the rights, reputations and freedoms of other persons or the private lives of persons concerned in legal proceedings, preventing the disclosure of information received in confidence, maintaining the authority and independence of the courts, regulating telephony, telegraphy, posts, wireless broadcasting, television or other means of communication or regulating public exhibitions or public entertainments; or
- (c) for the imposition of restrictions on public officers or teachers that are reasonably required for the purpose of ensuring the proper performance of their functions.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c) in so far as it relates to public officers, “law” in subsection (2) includes directions in writing regarding the conduct of public officers generally or any class of public officer issued by the Government.

Protection of freedom of assembly and association

14. (1) Except with his or her consent, no person shall be hindered in the enjoyment of his or her freedom of peaceful assembly and association, that is to say, his or her right to assemble freely and associate with other persons and in particular to form or belong to political parties or to form or belong to trade unions or other associations for the promotion and protection of his or her interests.

(2) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality or public health;
- (b) for the purpose of protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons; or
- (c) for the imposition of restrictions on public officers that are reasonably required for the purpose of ensuring the proper performance of their functions.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), “law” in subsection (2) includes directions in writing regarding the conduct of public officers generally or any class of public officer issued by the Government.

Protection of freedom of movement

15. (2) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision—

- (a) for the removal of a person from Montserrat to be tried or punished in some other country for a criminal offence under the law of that country;
- (b) for the removal of a person from Montserrat to undergo imprisonment in some other country in execution of the sentence of a court in respect of a criminal offence under the law of Montserrat of which he or she has been convicted;
- (c) for the imposition of restrictions on the movement or residence within Montserrat or the right to leave Montserrat of public officers that are reasonably required for the purpose of ensuring the proper performance of their functions;
- (d) for the imposition of restrictions on persons who are not Montserratians; but—
 - (i) no restriction may be imposed by virtue only of this paragraph on the right of any such person, so long as he or she is lawfully present in Montserrat, to move freely throughout Montserrat and to reside anywhere in Montserrat;
 - (ii) no restriction may be imposed by virtue only of this paragraph on the right of any such person to leave Montserrat; and
 - (iii) no such person shall be liable, by virtue only of this paragraph, to be expelled from Montserrat unless the requirements of subsection (4) are satisfied;

- (e) for the imposition of restrictions on the acquisition or use by any person of land or other property in Montserrat; or
- (f) for the imposition of restrictions, by order of a court, on the movement or residence within Montserrat of any person or on any person's right to leave Montserrat either in consequence of that person having been found guilty of a criminal offence under the law of Montserrat, or for the purpose of ensuring a fair trial or that he or she appears before a court at a later date for trial of such a criminal offence or for proceedings preliminary to trial or for proceedings relating to his or her extradition or lawful removal from Montserrat.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), “law” in subsection (2) includes directions in writing regarding the conduct of public officers generally or any class of public officer issued by the Government.

(4) The requirements to be satisfied for the purposes of subsection (2)(d)(iii) (that is to say, before a person who is not a Montserratian may be expelled from Montserrat) are as follows—

- (a) the decision to expel him or her is taken by an authority, in a manner and on grounds prescribed by law;
- (b) he or she has the right, save where the interests of defence, public safety or public order otherwise require, to submit reasons against his or her expulsion to a competent authority prescribed by law;

(5) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) for the imposition of restrictions on the movement or residence within Montserrat or on the right to leave Montserrat of persons generally or any class of persons that are reasonably required—
 - (i) in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality or public health; or
 - (ii) for the purpose of protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons; or
- (b) for the imposition of restrictions on the right of any person to leave Montserrat that are reasonably required in order to secure the fulfilment of any obligation imposed by law.

(6) Any restriction on a person's freedom of movement which is involved in his or her lawful detention shall not be held to contravene this section.

Protection from discrimination

16. (1) Subject to subsections (4) and (5), no law shall make any provision which is discriminatory either of itself or in its effect.

(2) Subject to subsections (4), (5) and (7), no person shall be treated in a discriminatory manner by any person acting by virtue of any written law or in the performance of the functions of any public office or any public authority.

(3) In this section, the expression “discriminatory” means affording different treatment to different persons on any ground such as sex, sexual orientation, race, colour, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, association with a national minority, property, birth or other status.

(4) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it has an objective and reasonable justification and there is a reasonable proportion between the provision of law in question or, as the case may be, the thing done under it and the aim which that provision or thing done under it seeks to realise.

(5) Subsection (1) shall not apply to any law so far as that law makes provision—

- (a) for the appropriation of revenues or other funds of Montserrat or for the imposition of taxation (including the levying of fees for the grant of licences);
- (b) with respect to the entry into or exclusion from Montserrat, or the employment or engaging in any business or profession within Montserrat, of persons who are not Montserratians;
- (c) for the application, in the case of persons of any such description of grounds as is mentioned in subsection (3) (or of persons connected with such persons) of the law with respect to adoption, marriage, divorce, burial, devolution of property on death or other like matters that is the personal law applicable to persons of that description; or
- (d) whereby persons of any such description of grounds as is mentioned in subsection (3) may be subjected to any disability or restriction or may be accorded any privilege or advantage which, having regard to its nature and to special circumstances pertaining to those persons or to persons of any other such description, is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society; and subsection (2) shall not apply to anything which is expressly or by necessary implication authorised to be done by any such provision of law.

(6) No person shall be treated in a discriminatory manner in respect of access to any place to which the general public has access.

(7) Nothing in subsection (2) shall affect any discretion relating to the institution, conduct or discontinuance of civil or criminal proceedings in any court that is vested in any person by or under this Constitution.

Protection from deprivation of property

17. (1) No property of any description shall be compulsorily taken possession of, and no interest in or right over property of any description shall be compulsorily acquired, except in accordance with a law applicable to that taking of possession or acquisition and where the following conditions are satisfied, that is to say—

- (a) the taking of possession or acquisition is in the public interest; and
- (b) there is a reasonable justification for the causing of any hardship that may result to any person having an interest in or right over the property; and
- (c) provision is made by a law applicable to the taking of possession or acquisition—
 - (i) for the prompt payment of adequate compensation; and
 - (ii) securing to any person having an interest in or right over the property a right of access to the High Court, whether direct or on appeal from any other authority, for the determination of his or her interest or right, the legality of the taking of possession or acquisition and the amount of any compensation to which he or she is entitled, and for the purpose of obtaining prompt payment of that compensation.

(2) No person who is entitled to compensation under this section shall be prevented from remitting, within a reasonable time after he or she has received any amount of that compensation, the whole of that amount to any country of his or her choice outside Montserrat.

(3) Without prejudice to the generality of the expression “in the public interest” in subsection (1), nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that the law makes provision for the taking of possession or acquisition of any property, interest or right—

- (a) for the purpose of controlling its use in accordance with the general interest;
- (b) as a consequence of a breach of the law;
- (c) to secure the payment of taxes or other like impositions; or
- (d) for the administration or enforcement of the law regulating the civil rights and obligations of persons as between themselves in respect of property.

Provisions for periods of public emergency

18. (1) The Governor may, by proclamation published in the Gazette, declare that a period of public emergency exists.

(2) Without prejudice to the power of the Legislature to make laws under this Constitution, during a period of public emergency the Governor may make such regulations for Montserrat as appear to him or her to be necessary or expedient for securing the public safety, the defence of Montserrat or the maintenance of public order, or for maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community.

(3) Regulations made under subsection (2)—

- (a) shall have effect only prospectively;
- (b) shall have effect, subject to this section, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law in force in Montserrat or any rule of law having effect in Montserrat;
- (c) shall (unless previously revoked) expire at the end of the period of public emergency during which they were made unless provision for their continuance in force (with or without modification) is made by the Legislature;
- (d) shall be published as soon as possible in the Gazette or by such other means as the Governor may determine, acting in his or her discretion, and shall come into force upon first publication.

(4) Before exercising any function under subsection (1) or (2) or under any emergency law enacted by the Legislature, the Governor shall consult the National Advisory Council or, if that is not practicable in the circumstances, the Premier; but if in the judgement of the Governor it is impracticable for him or her to consult the National Advisory Council or the Premier, the function shall be exercised by the Governor acting in his or her discretion.

(5) Where the Governor has consulted the National Advisory Council or the Premier under subsection (4), the Governor may, if he or she thinks it right to do so, act otherwise than in accordance with any advice given to him or her by the National Advisory Council or the Premier.

(6) Where any proclamation of emergency has been made by the Governor under subsection (1), a copy of the proclamation shall as soon as practicable be laid before the Legislative Assembly and if the Assembly is not due to meet within five days of the making of the proclamation it shall meet within that period or as soon as practicable thereafter.

(7) A proclamation of emergency shall, unless it is sooner revoked by the Governor, cease to be in force at the expiration of a period of fourteen days beginning on the date on which it was made or such longer period as may be provided under subsection (8), but without prejudice to the making of another proclamation of emergency at or before the end of that period.

(8) If at any time while a proclamation of emergency is in force (including any time while it is in force by virtue of this subsection) a resolution is passed by the Legislative Assembly approving its continuance in force for a further period not exceeding three months, beginning on the date on which it would otherwise expire, the proclamation shall, if not sooner revoked, continue in force for that further period; but the Assembly may abridge that period by a further resolution.

(9) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene section 6, section 7 other than subsections (4), (5) and (6) thereof, or any provision of sections 8 to 17 (inclusive) to the extent that the law authorises during a period of public emergency the taking of measures that are reasonably justifiable for dealing with the situation that exists in Montserrat during that period.

Protection of persons detained under emergency laws

19. (1) When a person is detained by virtue of any law in relation to a period of public emergency the following provisions shall apply—

- (a) notification shall, as soon as practicable and in any case not more than ten days after the commencement of his or her detention, be published in a public place (and thereafter as soon as possible in the Gazette) stating that he or she has been detained and giving particulars of the provision of law by virtue of which his or her detention is authorised;
- (b) he or she shall (if not sooner released), as soon as reasonably practicable and in any case not more than two days after the commencement of his or her detention, be informed, in a language that he or she understands, of the grounds on which he or she is detained and furnished with a written statement;
- (c) his or her case shall, as soon as practicable and in any case not more than 30 days after the commencement of his or her detention and thereafter during the detention at intervals of not more than three months, be reviewed by an independent and impartial tribunal established by law and presided over by a person appointed by the Chief Justice;
- (d) he or she shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to consult a legal representative of his or her own choice and to hold private communication with such legal representative; and
- (e) he or she shall, at the hearing of his or her case by the tribunal appointed for its review, be permitted to appear in person or by a legal representative of his or her own choice.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(d) and (e), if the detained person is unable to retain a legal representative of his or her own choice, the tribunal may approve such person as it deems fit to make representations to it, provided that nothing in subsection (1)(d) or (e) shall be construed as entitling a detained person to legal representation at public expense.

(3) On any review by a tribunal of the case of a detained person under this section, the tribunal may make recommendations concerning the necessity or expediency of continuing his or her detention to the authority by which it was ordered but, unless it is otherwise provided by law, that authority shall not be obliged to act in accordance with any such recommendations.

Enforcement of fundamental rights

20. (1) If any person alleges that any of the foregoing provisions of this Part has been, is being or is likely to be contravened in relation to him or her, then, without prejudice to any other action with respect to the same matter which is lawfully available to him to her, that person may apply to the High Court for redress.

(2) The High Court shall have original jurisdiction—

- (a) to hear and determine any application made by any person under subsection (1); and
- (b) to determine any question arising in the case of any person which is referred to it under subsection (3), and may make such orders, issue such writs and give such directions as it may consider appropriate for the purpose of enforcing or securing the enforcement of any of the foregoing provisions of this Part to the protection of which the person concerned is entitled.

(3) If, in any proceedings in any court established in Montserrat other than the High Court or the Court of Appeal, any question arises as to the contravention of any of the foregoing provisions of this Part, the court in which the question has arisen shall refer the question to the High Court unless, in its opinion, the raising of the question is merely frivolous or vexatious.

(4) An appeal shall lie as of right to the Court of Appeal from any final determination of any application or question by the High Court under this section, and an appeal shall lie as of right to Her Majesty in Council from the final determination by the Court of Appeal of the appeal in any such case; but no appeal shall lie from a determination by the High Court under this section dismissing an application on the ground that it is frivolous or vexatious.

(5) The Legislature may by law confer on the High Court such powers in addition to those conferred by this section as may appear to be necessary or desirable for the purpose of enabling the Court more effectively to exercise the jurisdiction conferred on it by this section.

(6) Any such law may make, or provide for the making of, provision with respect to the practice and procedure—

- (a) of the High Court in relation to the jurisdiction and powers conferred on it by or under this section;
- (b) of the High Court or the Court of Appeal in relation to appeals under this section from determinations of the High Court or the Court of Appeal; and
- (c) of other courts in relation to references to the High Court under subsection (3), including provision with respect to the time within which any application, reference or appeal shall or may be made or brought.

(2) The number of Ministers referred to in subsection (1) may be increased by a law made in pursuance of section 48(2) which increases the number of elected members of the Legislative Assembly; but in no circumstances may the number of such Ministers be increased so that the total number of Ministers exceeds a number arrived at by subtracting one from the total number of elected members of the Legislative Assembly and then dividing by two.

(3) Subject to this Constitution, the Cabinet shall have the general direction and control of the government of Montserrat and shall be collectively responsible for it to the Legislative Assembly.

(4) Upon a dissolution of the Legislative Assembly the Premier and other Ministers in office at the time of such dissolution shall remain in office and discharge their functions until a general election is held and a Premier is appointed in accordance with section 33(1) following such election; but such functions may not be exercised, save in the event of a public emergency, to commit or bind the next successor

Government to public funding or liability except in the ordinary course of the day to day affairs of Montserrat.

Temporary Ministers

37. (1) Whenever a Minister (other than the Premier) is absent from Montserrat or otherwise unable to perform the functions of his or her office, the Governor may, by instrument under the public seal, appoint a person who is an elected member of the Legislative Assembly (or, if the Assembly is dissolved, was such a member immediately before the dissolution) to be a temporary Minister.

(2) Subject to section 34, a person appointed under this section shall hold office until he or she is notified by the Governor that the circumstances giving rise to the appointment have ceased to exist.

38. (1) Subject to this Constitution, the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier, shall, by directions in writing, charge any Minister with responsibility for the conduct (subject to this Constitution and any other law) of any business of the Government, including responsibility for the administration of any department of government.

(4) In this section “the appointed day” means the date of commencement of this Constitution.

89. (1) No tax, rate or other levy shall be imposed except under the authority of an Act of the Legislature.

(2) Where an Act of the Legislature confers powers on any person or authority to waive or vary a tax imposed by that law, that person or authority shall report to the Legislative Assembly on the exercise of those powers as often as shall be determined by law but not less than annually.

Consolidated Fund

90. (1) There shall be a Consolidated Fund into which shall be paid all revenues or other moneys raised or received by and for the purposes of the Government.

(2) The revenues or other moneys referred to in subsection (1) shall not include revenues or other moneys—

- (a) that are payable by or under an Act of the Legislature into some other fund established for a specific purpose; or
- (b) that may, by or under an Act of the Legislature, be retained by the department of government that received them for the purpose of defraying the expenses of that department.

Withdrawal from Consolidated Fund or other public funds

91. (1) No moneys shall be withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund except—

- (a) to meet expenditure charged on the Fund by this Constitution or by an Act of the Legislature; or
- (b) where the issue of those moneys has been authorised by an Appropriation Act, a Supplementary Appropriation Act, or as provided in subsection (3).

(2) No moneys shall be withdrawn from any public fund of Montserrat other than the Consolidated Fund unless the issue of those moneys has been authorised by law.

(3) If the Minister of Finance is satisfied that the Appropriation Act in respect of any financial year will not or has not come into force by the beginning of that financial year, that Minister may, subject to subsection (4), authorise the issue of moneys from the Consolidated Fund for the purpose of meeting expenditure necessary to carry on the services of the Government until the expiration of four months from the beginning of that financial year or the coming into force of the Appropriation Act, whichever is the earlier.

(4) Any sum issued in any financial year from the Consolidated Fund under subsection (3) in respect of any ongoing service of the Government—

- (a) shall not exceed one third of the amount approved for that service by the Legislature in an Appropriation Act or a Supplementary Appropriation Act for the previous financial year; and
- (b) shall be set off against the amount provided in respect of that service in the Appropriation Act for that financial year when that law comes into force.

92. (1) The Minister of Finance shall cause to be prepared and laid before the Legislative Assembly before the beginning of each financial year estimates of revenues and expenditure of the Government for that financial year.

(2) At any time before the Legislative Assembly considers the estimates of revenues and expenditure laid before it by or on the authority of the Minister of Finance, an appropriate committee of the Assembly may discuss and review the estimates and make appropriate recommendations to the Assembly.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1) the Minister of Finance may cause to be prepared and laid before the Legislative Assembly—

93. (1) The heads of expenditure contained in the estimates, other than expenditure charged on the Consolidated Fund by this Constitution or any Act of the Legislature, shall be included in a Bill, to be known as an Appropriation Bill, which shall be introduced into the Legislative Assembly to provide for the issue from the Consolidated Fund of the sums necessary to meet that expenditure and the appropriation of those sums for the purposes specified in the Bill.

(2) If in respect of any financial year it is found that the amount appropriated for any purpose under the Appropriation Act is insufficient or that a need has arisen for expenditure for a purpose for which no amount has been appropriated by that Act, a supplementary estimate showing the sums required shall be laid before the Legislative Assembly by the Minister of Finance; and the heads of expenditure contained in that estimate shall be included in a Bill, to be known as a Supplementary Appropriation Bill, which shall be introduced into the Legislative Assembly to provide for the issue from the Consolidated Fund of the sums necessary to meet that expenditure and the appropriation of those sums for the purposes specified in the Bill.

Excess expenditure

94. (1) Where, in exceptional circumstances, at the close of accounts for any financial year it is found that moneys have been expended on any expenditure vote in excess of the amount appropriated for it by an Appropriation Act or a Supplementary Appropriation Act or for a purpose for which no moneys have been voted and appropriated, the amount of the excess expended, or not appropriated, as the case may be, shall be included in a statement of expenditure in excess which shall be laid before the Legislative Assembly and referred to the Public Accounts Committee of the Assembly.

(2) The Public Accounts Committee shall report to the Legislative Assembly on a statement of expenditure in excess referred to it under subsection (1) within six months after the statement is referred to it.

(3) Where on receiving any report of the Public Accounts Committee issued under subsection (2) the Legislative Assembly, by means of a resolution, allows the excess or the amount expended but not appropriated to stand charged to public funds, the sum required to meet that excess or such amount as shall be allowed shall be included in a Supplementary Appropriation Bill for appropriation.

Contingencies

95. (1) The Minister of Finance, if he or she is satisfied that there is an urgent and unforeseen need for expenditure for which no provision or insufficient provision has been made by an Appropriation Act or Supplementary Appropriation Act, may, by a Contingencies Warrant under his or her hand and in anticipation of the grant of an appropriation by the Legislature, authorise an advance from the Consolidated Fund to meet that need and shall forthwith report his or her action to the Cabinet.

(4) Where a person's remuneration or other terms of service depend upon his or her option, the remuneration or terms for which he or she opts shall, for the purposes of subsection (3), be deemed to be more advantageous to him or her than any others for which he or she might have opted.

(5) This section applies to the offices of Governor, Deputy Governor, Attorney-General, Director of Public Prosecutions, Magistrate, Chairman or other member of the Public Service Commission, the Electoral Commission, the Complaints Commission and the Integrity Commission.

(6) Nothing in this section shall preclude an Act of the Legislature that reduces the level of remuneration payable to the holder of any office to which this section applies where that Act makes equivalent reduction to the remuneration of all members of the public service.

98. (1) Subject to this Constitution, the Government may borrow from any source.

(Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Closure

41. (1) After a question has been proposed and seconded, a member rising in his place may claim to move, “That the question be now put,” and unless it appears to the Speaker that the motion is an abuse of the rules of the Assembly, or an infringement of the rights of the minority, the question “That the question be now put” must be put forthwith. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

(2) When the motion “That the question be now put,” has been carried and the question consequent thereon has been decided, any further motion may be made (the assent of the Speaker as aforesaid not having being withheld) which may be requisite to bring to a decision any question already proposed from the Chair.

(3) When a clause is under consideration a motion may be made (the assent of the Speaker as aforesaid not having been withheld) that the question that certain words of the clause defined in the motion stand part of the clause, or that the clause stand part of or be added to the Bill, be now put.

(4) Every motion made under this rule must be put forthwith and decided without amendment or debate.

Allocation of time for debate

(Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Divisions

Voting

45. (1) At the conclusion of the debate upon any question the Speaker or other presiding member, or the Chairman as the case may be, shall put the question for the decision of the Assembly or of the Committee as the case may be, and shall collect the voices of the “ayes” and of the “noes”, after which no further debate may take place upon that question. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

(2) The result shall be declared by the Speaker or other presiding member or by the Chairman, as the case may be, stating “I think the ayes have it” or “I think the noes have it” as the case may be, but any member may challenge the opinion of the Chair by claiming a division.

(3) A division may be taken by the Clerk calling each member’s name and asking each member separately how he desires to vote and recording the vote accordingly. The Clerk shall then announce the number of those who have voted for and of those who have voted against the proposal and the Speaker or other presiding member or the Chairman as the case may be, shall declare the result of the division, and if necessary, give his casting vote.

(4) Every member present shall, unless he expressly states that he declines to vote record his vote either for the “ayes” or the “noes”. The Clerk shall enter in the minutes of the proceedings the record of each member’s vote.

(5) If a member states that he voted in error or that his vote has been counted wrongly, he may claim to have his vote altered provided that, such claim is made as soon as the Clerk has announced the numbers and before the Chair has declared the result of the division. Upon such claim being made the Speaker or other presiding member or the Chairman as the case may be, shall at his sole discretion either direct the Clerk to alter that member's vote or direct that a fresh division be held.

(6) Any member voting in the minority who desires to have his reasons recorded for so voting shall state such desire forthwith, and his reasons shall be recorded either at that or the following meeting of the Assembly. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Disallowance of vote of member having direct personal pecuniary interest

46. A member shall not vote on any subject in which he has a direct personal pecuniary interest, but a motion to disallow a member's vote on this ground shall be made only as soon as the result of the voting on the question shall have been declared. If the motion for the disallowance of a member's vote shall be agreed to, the Speaker, or in Committee the Chairman, shall direct the Clerk to correct the numbers voting in the division accordingly. In deciding whether a motion for the disallowance of a member's vote shall be proposed from the Chair the Speaker, or in any Committee of the Assembly the Chairman, shall have regard to the character of the question upon which the division was taken and to the consideration whether the interest therein of the member whose vote is challenged is direct and pecuniary and not an interest in common with the rest of Her Majesty's subjects and whether his vote was given on a matter of state policy. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Breaches of Order

Withdrawal of disorderly member

47. (1) The Speaker or Chairman shall order members whose conduct is grossly disorderly to withdraw immediately from the Assembly Chamber during the remainder of the day's sitting.

(Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Suspension of member named

48. (1) If a member shows disregard for the authority of the Chair, or abuse the rules of the Assembly by persistently and wilfully obstructing the business of the Assembly, the Speaker shall direct the attention of the Assembly to the incident mentioning by name the member concerned. A motion may then be made upon which the Speaker shall forthwith put the question, no amendment, adjournment, or debate being allowed, "That such member be suspended from the service of the Assembly". If such an offence shall have been committed in a Committee of the whole Assembly, the Chairman shall forthwith suspend the proceedings of the Committee and report the circumstances to the Assembly; and the Speaker shall on a motion being made thereupon put the same question, without amendment, adjournment or debate, as if the offence had been committed in the Assembly itself. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

(2) Not more than one member shall be named at the same time, unless several members present together have jointly disregarded the authority of the Chair.

(3) If a member be suspended from the service of the Assembly under the provisions of this Order his suspension shall continue and be effective during the remainder of the session unless sooner determined by the Assembly. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Enforcement of Speaker's directions

49. (1) Members who are directed to withdraw under Order 47 or are suspended under Order 48 shall forthwith withdraw from the precincts of the Assembly Chamber.

(2) The Speaker or Chairman whether acting under Order 47 or 48 may direct such steps to be taken as are required to enforce his order.

(3) Nothing in Order 48 shall be deemed to prevent the Assembly from proceeding against any member for any breach of order not specified therein or from proceeding in any other way it thinks fit in dealing with the breaches of order therein mentioned. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Progress of Bills

Constitutional requirements

50. The introduction of Bills shall be subject to the constitutional requirements laid down by section 70 of the Montserrat Constitution Order.

Introduction and first reading of Bills

51. (1) No Bill shall be introduced until leave for its introduction shall have been applied for and granted.

(2) If the motion for leave is opposed, the Speaker, after permitting (if he thinks fit) a brief explanatory statement from the member who moves and from a member who opposes the motion, may, without further debate, put the question thereon.

(3) If leave to introduce the Bill be granted, the Bill may be introduced, and shall be read a first time by the Clerk.

Publication of Bills

52. After having been read a first time a Bill shall, if it has not already been published in the Gazette, be so published when such publication is practicable, and shall in any event be made available for publication by both the local Press and the Radio.

Suspension of Standing Orders for further readings of Bill

53. Every Bill shall be read three times previously to its being passed and no Bill shall pass through more than two readings at any one sitting, unless this Order shall have been formally suspended for the purpose.

Second reading of Bills

54. The member moving the second reading of the Bill shall state the object of the Bill and the reasons for its introduction. When a motion for the second reading of a Bill has been made and seconded there may be a debate upon the general merits and principles of the Bill; and if such motion is carried the Bill shall stand referred to a Committee of the whole Assembly to consider the Bill clause by clause, and amend it as may be deemed necessary, unless at this stage of the proceedings the Assembly decides the Bill shall be referred to a Select Committee. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Procedure in committee

55. (1) When a Bill is under consideration in Committee, unless the Committee decides to have the Bill read in any other manner, the Clerk shall call the several clauses in order by reading the number of each clause and shall then refer to the schedules, if any, in order, next the preamble, if any, and lastly the title. If it is proposed to move any amendment of a clause or schedule when called, the Clerk shall put them in their proper order. If the clause (or schedule or the preamble or the title, as the case may be) is not amended, the Chairman shall without motion put the question “That this clause (or this schedule or the preamble or the title, as the case may be) do stand part of the Bill”. If the clause (or this schedule or the preamble or the title, as the case may be) is amended, he shall put the question. “That this clause (or this schedule or the preamble or the title, as the case may be) as amended, do stand part of the Bill”.

(2) Notwithstanding the procedure laid down in paragraph (1) of this Order, the Chairman may call the Schedules before proceeding with the clauses of the Bill.

- (3) (a) In settling a Bill in Committee any member may move an amendment, or, without making a formal motion, may suggest an amendment, or may ask for information respecting any part of the Bill or any proposed amendment;
- (b) An amendment must be relevant to the subject matter of the Bill, and to the subject matter of the clause to which it relates;
- (c) An amendment must not be inconsistent with any previous decision of the Committee;
- (d) An amendment must not be such as to make the clause which it proposes to amend unintelligible or ungrammatical;
- (e) If an amendment refers to, or is not intelligible without a subsequent amendment or a schedule, notice of the subsequent amendment or schedule must be given before, or when the first amendment is moved so as to make the series of amendments intelligible as a whole;

- (f) An amendment which proposes to amend the whole substance of a clause for the purpose of inserting different provisions will as a general rule be irregular. The proper course will be to negative the clause and propose a new one in its place;
- (g) The Chairman may refuse to put an amendment which is in his opinion frivolous.

(4) A Bill may be referred to a Select Committee at any time after it shall have passed its second reading.

(5) When a Bill has been referred to, and reported on by a Select Committee and it is certified by the Chairman of such a Committee that such Bill has been considered clause by clause in the presence of a quorum of the members of such Committee at least and that in the opinion of the Committee such Bill may be dealt with by the Assembly in the same manner as a Bill reported on by a Committee of the whole Assembly, such Bill may be dealt with accordingly if no member objects, but if any member objects the Bill shall be dealt with in usual manner. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

(6) The consideration of a clause may, on motion made, be postponed, but the motion may not be made after the clause has been amended.

(7) New clauses shall be considered after the clauses in the Bill as printed have been disposed of and before the consideration of the schedules, if any. Notice of a proposed new clause shall be given previous to the sitting unless the Chairman considers that such notice may be dispensed with. The Chairman shall call on the member in whose name the new clause stands, and if that member moves the Clerk shall read the marginal note of the clause and it shall then be taken to have been read a first time. The question shall then be put “that this clause be read a second time.” If this be agreed to, amendments may be moved and after these (if any) have been disposed of the question shall be put “that this clause be read a second time.” If this be agreed to amendments may be moved and after these (if any) have been disposed of the question shall be “that this clause (or that this clause as amended) be added to the Bill as clause No..... and that the subsequent clauses be renumbered accordingly.”

(8) When a Bill shall have been settled in Committee the Assembly shall resume without question put; and the member having charge of the Bill shall thereupon report to the Assembly that the Bill has passed through the committee stage, with or without amendments, as the case may be, or that progress has been made therewith. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Third reading of Bills

56. Subject to the provisions of Order 53, on the resumption of the Assembly on the conclusion of the committee stage a Bill may, on motion made, be read the third time, either forthwith if no member objects or at some subsequent sitting. When the motion for the third reading of the Bill is to be put the question shall be “That the Bill be now read a third time and passed.” (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Title only to be read

57. On the first and third readings of a Bill the Clerk shall read only the title.

Recommittal of Bills

58. (1) If on the third reading of a Bill any member desires to amend or delete any provision contained in the Bill or to introduce any new provision, he may move that the Bill be re-committed, and, if the motion be carried, the Assembly shall resolve itself into Committee and any alteration proposed may be discussed. The Assembly may then resume and the Bill be read a third time. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

(2) Verbal amendments may be made previous to the Bill being read a third time without the Bill being recommitted.

Governor's amendments

59. When the Governor requires that amendments be made to a Bill passed by the Assembly before the Bill becomes law, such Bill shall be recommitted for the consideration only of the amendments proposed. The Bill shall be re-submitted to the Governor with the amendments made therein, or with such of them as the Assembly shall approve. (Amended by Act 9 of 2011)

Withdrawal of Bills

60. The member in charge of a Bill standing on the Order Book may make a motion without notice for its withdrawal either before the commencement of Other Business or on the Order of the Day for any stage of the Bill being read.

Bills on the same subject matter

61. More than one Bill of the same subject matter may be introduced but, when the second reading of a Bill has been agreed to or negatived, the question shall not be proposed for the second reading of another Bill of the same subject matter during the same session. On the Order of the Day relating to such Bill being read the Speaker shall direct that the Bill be withdrawn.

*Select CommitteesSelect Committees

(2) If the Speaker be the Chairman of a Select Committee he shall have a casting vote if the votes be equally divided, but shall not have an original vote. In the absence of the Speaker from the Chair the member presiding shall have an original vote, and a casting vote if the votes are equally divided.

Report of Select Committee

64. (1) Every Select Committee shall make a report to the Assembly upon the matters referred to them before the end of the session in which the Committee were appointed, but if a Committee find themselves unable to conclude their investigation before the end of the session, they may so report to the Assembly.

(2) A Select Committee shall have leave to make a special report relating to the powers, functions and proceedings of the Committee on any matter which they may think fit to bring to the notice of the Assembly.

(3) The report or special report together with the minutes of proceedings of a Select Committee and the minutes of any evidence taken before that Committee shall be signed by the Chairman thereof, or in his absence by the senior member present, and shall be presented to the Assembly by the Chairman or senior member as the case may be, and shall be ordered to lie upon the table and may be printed without question put.

(4) The minutes of proceedings of a Select Committee shall record all proceedings upon the consideration of any report or Bill in the Committee and upon every amendment proposed to such report or Bill together with a note of any division taken in the Committee and the names of members voting therein.
