For the latest information about developments related to Form 943-A and its instructions, such as legislation enacted after they were published, go to IRS.gov/Form943A.

What's New

Qualified small business payroll tax credit for increasing research activities. For tax years beginning before January 1, 2023, a qualified small business may elect to claim up to $250,000 of its credit for increasing research activities as a payroll tax credit. The Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 (the IRA) increases the election amount to $500,000 for tax years beginning after December 31, 2022. The payroll tax credit election must be made on or before the due date of the originally filed income tax return (including extensions). The portion of the credit used against payroll taxes is allowed in the first calendar quarter beginning after the date that the qualified small business filed its income tax return. The election and determination of the credit amount that will be used against the employer's payroll taxes are made on Form 6765, Credit for Increasing Research Activities. The amount from Form 6765, line 44, must then be reported on Form 8974, Qualified Small Business Payroll Tax Credit for Increasing Research Activities.

Starting in the first quarter of 2023, the payroll tax credit is first used to reduce the employer share of social security tax up to $250,000 per quarter and any remaining credit reduces the employer share of Medicare tax for the quarter. Any remaining credit, after reducing the employer share of social security tax and the employer share of Medicare tax, is then carried forward to the next quarter. Form 8974 is used to determine the amount of the credit that can be used in the current year. The amount from Form 8974, line 12 or, if applicable, line 17, is reported on Form 943, line 12a. For more information about the payroll tax credit, see the Instructions for Form 8974 and go to IRS.gov/ResearchPayrollITC. Also see Adjusting Tax Liability for Nonrefundable Credits Claimed on Form 943, Lines 12a, 12b, and 12d, later.

Adjusting tax liability for the nonrefundable portion of the COBRA premium assistance credit. The instructions for adjusting tax liability for the nonrefundable portion of the COBRA premium assistance credit reported on Form 943, line 12e, have been deleted because the first quarter of 2022 was the last quarter in which most employers may have been eligible to claim the COBRA premium assistance credit.

Section 9501 of the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (the ARP) provided for COBRA premium assistance in the form of a full reduction in the premium otherwise payable by certain individuals and their families who elected COBRA continuation coverage due to a loss of coverage as the result of a reduction in hours or an involuntary termination of employment (assistance eligible individuals). This COBRA premium assistance was available for periods of coverage beginning on or after April 1, 2021, through periods of coverage beginning on or before September 30, 2021. A premium payee was entitled to the COBRA premium assistance credit at the time an eligible individual elected coverage. Therefore, due to the COBRA notice and election period requirements (generally, employers had 60 days to provide notice and assistance eligible individuals had 60 days to elect coverage), the first quarter of 2022 was the last quarter in which most employers may have been eligible to claim the COBRA premium assistance credit.

Reminders

Adjusting tax liability for nonrefundable credits claimed on Form 943, lines 12a, 12b, and 12d. See Adjusting Tax Liability for Nonrefundable Credits Claimed on Form 943, Lines 12a, 12b, and 12d, later, for instructions on how to report on Form 943-A adjustments to your tax liabilities for the qualified small business payroll tax credit for increasing research activities; the nonrefundable portion of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages paid in 2023 for leave taken after March 31, 2020, and before April 1, 2021; and the nonrefundable portion of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages paid in 2023 for leave taken after March 31, 2021, and before October 1, 2021.

Reporting prior period adjustments. Prior period adjustments are reported on Form 943-X, Adjusted Employer's Annual Federal Tax Return for Agricultural Employees or Claim for Refund, and aren't taken into account when figuring the tax liability for the current year.

When you file Form 943-A with your Form 943, Employer's Annual Federal Tax Return for Agricultural Employees, don't change your current year tax liability by adjustments reported on any Form 943-X.

Amended Form 943-A. If you have been assessed a failure-to-deposit (FTD) penalty, you may be able to file an amended Form 943-A. See Correcting Previously Reported Tax Liability, later.

General Instructions

Purpose of Form 943-A

These instructions tell you about Form 943-A. Use Form 943-A to report your tax liability if you're a semiweekly schedule depositor. To determine if you're a semiweekly schedule depositor, see section 7 of Pub. 51, Agricultural Employer's Tax Guide.

On Form 943-A, list your tax liability for each day. Your tax liability is based on the dates wages were paid. Your liability includes:

- The federal income tax you withheld from your employees' pay, and
- Both the employer and employee share of social security and Medicare taxes.

Don't use Form 943-A to show federal tax deposits. The IRS gets deposit data from electronic funds transfers.

Don't report taxes on wages paid to nonfarm workers on this form. Taxes on wages paid to nonfarm workers are reported on Form 941/941-SS, Employer's QUARTERLY Federal Tax Return; or Form 944, Employer's ANNUAL Federal Tax Return. Don't attach Form 943-A to your Form 941/941-SS or Form 944. Instead, use Schedule B (Form 941) or Form 945-A, Annual Record of Federal Tax Liability (with Form 944).

The IRS uses Form 943-A to determine if you've deposited your Form 943 tax liabilities on time. If you're a semiweekly schedule depositor and you don't properly complete and file your Form 943-A with Form 943, the IRS may propose an "averaged" FTD penalty. See Deposit Penalties in section 7 of Pub. 51 for more information.

Who Must File?

File Form 943-A if you're a semiweekly schedule depositor. Monthly schedule depositors who accumulate $100,000 or more of tax liability on any day of a calendar month become semiweekly schedule depositors on the next day and remain so for at least the remainder of the year and for the next year, and must also complete and file Form 943-A for the entire year. The $100,000 tax liability threshold requiring a next-day deposit is determined before you consider any reduction of your liability for nonrefundable credits. For more information, including an example, see frequently asked question 17 at IRS.gov/ETD.

The deposit rules, including the $100,000 Next-Day Deposit Rule, are explained in section 7 of Pub. 51 and in the Instructions for Form 943.

Don't complete Form 943-A if your net tax liability for the year (Form 943, line 13) is less than $2,500. Don't file this form if you're a monthly schedule depositor unless you accumulated a tax liability of $100,000 during any month of the year.

When Must You File?

Form 943-A is filed with Form 943. Therefore, the due date of Form 943-A is the same as the due date for the applicable Form 943. See the Instructions for Form 943 for due dates. In some situations, Form 943-A may be filed with Form 943-X. See Form 943-X, later, for details.

Specific Instructions

Completing Form 943-A

Enter Your Business Information

Carefully enter your employer identification number (EIN) and name at the top of the form. Make sure that they exactly match the name of your business and the EIN that the IRS assigned to your business and also agree with the name and EIN shown on the attached Form 943 or Form 943-X.

Calendar Year

Enter the calendar year of the Form 943 or Form 943-X to which Form 943-A is attached.

Enter Your Tax Liability by Month

Enter your tax liabilities in the spaces that correspond to the dates you paid wages to your employees, not the date payroll liabilities were accrued or deposits were made. The total tax liability for the year (line M) must equal total taxes after adjustments and nonrefundable credits on Form 943 (line 13). Enter the monthly totals on lines A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, and L. Enter the total for the year on line M.

For example, if your payroll period ended on December 31, 2022, and you paid the wages for that period on January 6, 2023, you would:

- Go to January on Form 943-A filed with your 2023 Form 943, and
- Enter your tax liability on line 6 because line 6 represents the sixth day of the month.

Make sure you have checked the appropriate box above line 17 of Form 943 to show that you're a semiweekly schedule depositor.

Example 1. Fir Co. is a semiweekly schedule depositor. Fir Co. accumulated a federal tax liability of $3,000 on its January 11 and January 25 paydays. In the January column, Fir Co. must enter $3,000 on lines 11 and 25.

Example 2. Cedar Co. is a semiweekly schedule depositor that paid wages in October, November, and December on the last day of the month. On December 25, 2023, Cedar Co. also paid its employees year-end bonuses (subject to employment taxes). Because Cedar Co. is a semiweekly schedule depositor, it must record employment tax liabilities on Form 943-A.

Month	Lines for dates wages were paid
October	line 31 (payday, last day of the month)
November	line 30 (payday, last day of the month)
December	line 25 (bonus paid December 25, 2023)
December	line 31 (payday, last day of the month)

Example 3. Elm Co. is a new business and monthly schedule depositor for 2023. Elm Co. pays wages every Friday. Elm Co. incurred a $2,000 employment tax liability on October 6, 2023. Elm Co. incurred a $110,000 tax liability on October 13, 2023, and on every subsequent Friday during 2023. Under the deposit rules, employers become semiweekly schedule depositors on the day after any day they accumulate $100,000 or more of tax liability in a deposit period.

Because Elm Co. had an accumulated tax liability of $112,000 on October 13, 2023, it became a semiweekly schedule depositor on October 14, 2023, and must complete Form 943-A and file it with Form 943. No entries should be made on Form 943, line 17, even though Elm Co. was a monthly schedule depositor until October 14, 2023.

Month	Lines for dates wages were paid	Amount to report
October	line 6	$2,000
October	lines 13, 20, and 27	$110,000
November	lines 3, 10, 17, and 24	$110,000
December	lines 1, 8, 15, 22, and 29	$110,000

Your total liability for the year must equal line 13 on Form 943; therefore, don't reduce your total liability reported on Form 943-A by the refundable portion of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages. See the Instructions for Form 943 for more information.

Adjusting Tax Liability for Nonrefundable Credits Claimed on Form 943, Lines 12a, 12b, and 12d

Semiweekly schedule depositors must account for nonrefundable credits claimed on Form 943, lines 12a, 12b, and 12d, when reporting their tax liabilities on Form 943-A. The total tax liability for the year must equal the amount reported on Form 943, line 13. Failure to account for the nonrefundable credits on Form 943-A may cause Form 943-A to report more than the total tax liability reported on Form 943, line 13. Don't reduce your daily tax liability reported on Form 943-A below zero.

Qualified small business payroll tax credit for increasing research activities (line 12a). Beginning with the first quarter of 2023, the qualified small business payroll tax credit for increasing research activities is first used to reduce the employer share of social security tax (up to $250,000) for the quarter and any remaining credit is then used to reduce the employer share of Medicare tax for the quarter until it reaches zero. In completing Form 943-A, you take into account the payroll tax credit against the liability for the employer share of social security tax starting with the first payroll payment of the quarter that includes payments of wages subject to social security tax to your employees until you use up to $250,000 of credit against the employer share of social security tax and you then take into account any remaining payroll tax credit against the liability for the employer share of Medicare tax starting with the first payroll payment of the quarter that includes payments of wages subject to Medicare tax to employees. Consistent with the entries on Form 943-A, the payroll tax credit should be taken into account in making deposits of employment tax. If any payroll tax credit is remaining at the end of the quarter that hasn't been used completely because it exceeds $250,000 of the employer share of social security tax and the employer share of Medicare tax for the quarter, the excess credit may be carried forward to the succeeding quarter and allowed as a payroll tax credit for the succeeding quarter. The payroll tax credit may not be taken as a credit against income tax withholding, the employee share of social security tax, or the employee share of Medicare tax.

Also, the remaining payroll tax credit may not be carried back and taken as a credit against wages paid from preceding quarters that are reported on the same Form 943 or on Forms 943 for preceding years. If an amount of payroll tax credit is unused at the end of the calendar year because it is in excess of the applicable employer share of social security tax and employer share of Medicare tax on wages paid during the applicable quarters in the calendar year, the remaining payroll tax credit may be carried forward to the first quarter of the succeeding calendar year as a payroll tax credit against the applicable employer share of social security tax and employer share of Medicare tax paid on wages paid in that quarter. For more information about the payroll tax credit, go to IRS.gov/ResearchPayrollITC.

Example. Rose Co. is an employer with a calendar tax year that filed its timely 2022 income tax return on April 18, 2023. Rose Co. elected to take the qualified small business payroll tax credit for increasing research activities on Form 6765. The third quarter of 2023 is the first quarter that begins after Rose Co. filed the income tax return making the payroll tax credit election. Therefore, the payroll tax credit applies against Rose Co.'s share of social security tax (up to $250,000) and Medicare tax on wages paid to employees in the third quarter of 2023. Rose Co. completes Form 943-A by reducing the amount of liability entered for the first payroll payment in the third quarter of 2023 that includes wages subject to social security tax by the lesser of (1) its share of social security tax (up to $250,000) on the wages, or (2) the available payroll tax credit. If the payroll tax credit elected is more than Rose Co.'s share of social security tax on the first payroll payment of the quarter, the excess payroll tax credit would be carried forward to succeeding payroll payments in the third quarter until it is used against up to $250,000 of Rose Co.'s share of social security tax for the quarter. If the amount of the payroll tax credit exceeds Rose Co.'s share of social security tax (up to $250,000) on wages paid to its employees in the third quarter, any remaining credit is used against Rose Co.'s share of Medicare tax on the first payroll payment of the quarter and then the excess payroll tax credit would be carried forward to succeeding payroll payments in the third quarter until it is used against Rose Co.'s share of Medicare tax for the quarter. If Rose Co. still has credit remaining after reducing its share of social security tax (up to $250,000) and Medicare tax for the third quarter, the remainder would be treated as a payroll tax credit against its share of social security tax (up to $250,000) and Medicare tax on wages paid in the fourth quarter. If the amount of the payroll tax credit remaining exceeded Rose Co.'s share of social security tax (up to $250,000) and Medicare tax on wages paid in the fourth quarter, it could be carried forward and treated as a payroll tax credit for the first quarter of 2024.

Nonrefundable portion of credit for qualified sick and family leave wages for leave taken after March 31, 2020, and before April 1, 2021 (Form 943, line 12b).

The nonrefundable portion of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages paid in 2023 for leave taken after March 31, 2020, and before April 1, 2021, is limited to the employer share of social security tax on wages paid during the year that is remaining after that share is first reduced by any credit claimed against the employer share of social security tax on Form 8974, line 12, for the qualified small business payroll tax credit for increasing research activities; any credit to be claimed on Form 5884-C, line 11, for the work opportunity credit for qualified tax-exempt organizations hiring qualified veterans; and/or any credit to be claimed on Form 5884-D for the disaster credit for qualified tax-exempt organizations. In completing Form 943-A, you take into account the nonrefundable portion of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages paid in 2023 against the liability for the first payroll payment of the year, but not below zero. Then reduce the liability for each successive payroll payment in the year until the nonrefundable portion of the credit is used. Any credit for qualified sick and family leave wages paid in 2023 for leave taken after March 31, 2020, and before April 1, 2021, that is remaining at the end of the year because it exceeds the employer share of social security tax for the year is claimed on Form 943, line 14d, as a refundable credit. The refundable portion of the credit doesn't reduce the liability reported on Form 943-A. For more information about the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages, go to IRS.gov/PLC.

Example. Maple Co. is a semiweekly schedule depositor that pays employees every Friday. Maple Co. had pay dates every Friday of 2023 starting January 6, 2023. Maple Co. paid qualified sick and family leave wages on March 10 and March 17 for leave taken after March 31, 2020, and before April 1, 2021. The nonrefundable portion of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages for the year is $10,000. On Form 943-A, Maple Co. will use the $10,000 to reduce the liability for the January 6 pay date, but not below zero. If any nonrefundable portion of the credit remains, Maple Co. applies it to the liability for the January 13 pay date, then the January 20 pay date, and so forth until the entire $10,000 is used.

Nonrefundable portion of credit for qualified sick and family leave wages for leave taken after March 31, 2021, and before October 1, 2021 (Form 943, line 12d). The nonrefundable portion of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages paid in 2023 for leave taken after March 31, 2021, and before October 1, 2021, is limited to the employer share of Medicare tax on wages paid during the year that is remaining after that share is first reduced by any credit claimed against the employer share of Medicare tax on Form 8974, line 16, for the qualified small business payroll tax credit for increasing research activities. In completing Form 943-A, you take into account the nonrefundable portion of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages paid in 2023 against the liability for the first payroll payment of the year, but not below zero. Then reduce the liability for each successive payroll payment in the year until the nonrefundable portion of the credit is used. Any credit for qualified sick and family leave wages paid in 2023 for leave taken after March 31, 2021, and before October 1, 2021, that is remaining at the end of the year because it exceeds the employer share of Medicare tax for the year is claimed on Form 943, line 14f, as a refundable credit. The refundable portion of the credit doesn't reduce the liability reported on Form 943-A. For more information about the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages, go to IRS.gov/PLC.

You may reduce your deposits by the amount of the nonrefundable and refundable portions of the credit for qualified sick and family leave wages.

For more information on reducing deposits, see Notice 2020-22, 2020-17 I.R.B. 664, available at IRS.gov/irb/2020-17\_IRB#NOT-2020-22; and Notice 2021-24, 2021-18 I.R.B. 1122, available at IRS.gov/irb/2021-18\_IRB#NOT-2021-24.

Correcting Previously Reported Tax Liability

Semiweekly schedule depositors. If you've been assessed an FTD penalty and you made an error on Form 943-A and the correction won't change the total liability for the year you reported on Form 943-A, you may be able to reduce your penalty by filing an amended Form 943-A.

Example. You reported a liability of $3,000 on January 1. However, the liability was actually for March. Prepare an amended Form 943-A showing the $3,000 liability on March 1. Also, you must enter the liabilities previously reported for the year that didn't change. Write "Amended" at the top of Form 943-A. The IRS will refigure the penalty and notify you of any change in the penalty.

Monthly schedule depositors. You can file Form 943-A if you have been assessed an FTD penalty and you made an error on the monthly tax liability section of Form 943. When completing Form 943-A for this situation, only enter the monthly totals. The daily entries aren't required.

Where to file. File your amended Form 943-A or, for monthly schedule depositors, your original Form 943-A at the address provided in the penalty notice you received. If you're filing an amended Form 943-A, you don't have to submit your original Form 943-A.

Form 943-X

You may need to file an amended Form 943-A with Form 943-X to avoid or reduce an FTD penalty.

Tax decrease. If you're filing Form 943-X, you can file an amended Form 943-A with Form 943-X if both of the following apply.

- 1. You have a tax decrease.
- 2. You were assessed an FTD penalty.

File your amended Form 943-A with Form 943-X. The total liability reported on your amended Form 943-A must equal the corrected amount of tax reported on Form 943-X. If your penalty is decreased, the IRS will include the penalty decrease with your tax decrease.

Tax increase—Form 943-X filed timely. If you're filing a timely Form 943-X showing a tax increase, don't file an amended Form 943-A, unless you were assessed an FTD penalty caused by an incorrect, incomplete, or missing Form 943-A. If you're filing an amended Form 943-A, don't include the tax increase reported on Form 943-X.

Tax increase—Form 943-X filed late. If you owe tax and are filing a late Form 943-X, that is, after the due date of the Form 943 for the year in which you discovered the error, you must file an amended Form 943-A with Form 943-X. Otherwise, the IRS may assess an "averaged" FTD penalty.

The total tax reported on line M of the amended Form 943-A must match the corrected tax (Form 943, line 13, combined with any correction reported on Form 943-X, line 20) for the year, less any previous abatements and interest-free tax assessments.
