

Terms and Conditions for Permissions

These Terms and Conditions for Permission (these “Terms”) apply when Oncology Nursing Society (“ONS”) grants permission with respect to ONS materials described in a permission request (“ONS Materials”). The terms “you” and “your” refer to the entity you represent, or if you do not designate an entity in your permission request, you individually. By submitting a permission request, you agree and intend to be legally bound to these Terms.

1. Permission. If granted by ONS, permission is limited to use of the specific ONS Materials identified in your permission request. Upon request, you shall provide ONS a reasonable opportunity to review and approve your use of the ONS Materials prior to such use.
2. ONS Materials. ONS reserves all rights in the ONS Materials. You agree that, as between you and ONS, ONS is the sole and exclusive owner of the ONS Materials and any excerpts in or content from the ONS Materials, including, without limitation, all copyrights therein. You acknowledge that you will not have any ownership or other rights to the ONS Materials. To the extent that you are deemed to own or acquire any rights in the ONS Materials, you hereby irrevocably grant and assigns to ONS all rights of every kind and nature in and to the ONS Materials and all copyrights therein in the United States or any other jurisdiction.
3. Fees. ONS may charge a fee in its sole discretion. If a fee is charged, ONS will issue an invoice, which must be paid in advance and as a condition to permission being granted or continued. Fees are in USD, do not include tax, and are nonrefundable.
4. Duration. Unless another date is stated by ONS in writing, permission automatically terminates one year from the date permission is granted. However, ONS may terminate this permission earlier at any time for any reason upon notice to you. In addition, your failure to comply with these Terms automatically and immediately terminates permission. Upon termination, you shall immediately stop using ONS Materials. Terms that by their nature survive termination of permission will so survive, including but not limited to provisions relating to disclaimers, limitations of liability, and indemnification.
5. Restrictions. Except as expressly permitted by ONS in writing or these Terms, you shall not: (a) make any changes, additions, or deletions to the ONS Materials, unless approved in advance and in writing by ONS; (b) copy, reproduce, distribute, sell, license, translate, or create derivative works of ONS Materials; (c) use the ONS Materials in violation of these Terms, applicable law, or inconsistent with the use for which permission has been approved by ONS; (d) remove any product identification, proprietary, copyright or other notices contained in the ONS Material; (e) use the ONS Material in any manner that infringes intellectual property or other rights of ONS or another party; or (f) portrays ONS or ONS Materials in an unfavorable light.
6. Disclaimers. ONS makes no representations or warranties of any kind about ONS Materials, which are provided “as is.” ONS disclaims all representations and warranties, express or implied, arising out of or related to the ONS Materials, including but not limited to any warranties concerning accuracy, quality, correctness, completeness, comprehensiveness, currency, timeliness, suitability, availability, compatibility, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, title, noninfringement, or otherwise, and regardless of any course of dealing, custom, or trade usage. ONS Materials are not medical advice or a substitute for independent professional and clinical judgment or individual patient assessment. While ONS Materials may refer to concepts of diagnosis or therapy, ONS Materials are general reference materials and should not be used for specific diagnostic or treatment determinations. ONS Materials may become out-of-date due to changes or advances in the field.
7. Limitation of Liability. ONS’s aggregate liability to you for any claim arising out of or relating to the ONS Materials and/or these Terms is limited to direct damages up to the amounts paid by you for the ONS Materials or $100.00, whichever is less. In no event will ONS be liable for lost profits or any indirect, special, incidental, punitive, statutory, or consequential damages. These limitations apply: (a) regardless of the form of action, whether in contract, tort, strict product liability, indemnification, or otherwise; (b) even if ONS was advised in advance of the possibility of the damages and even if the damages were foreseeable; and (c) even if your remedies fail of their essential purpose.
8. Indemnification. You shall defend, indemnify, and hold ONS (which includes its officers, directors, employees, agents, successors, and assigns) harmless from any and all claims, damages, liabilities, and costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees) arising out of or relating to your use of ONS Materials. ONS may in its sole discretion: (a) participate in the defense of the claim and engage counsel of its choice at its own expense; or (b) assume control of the defense of the claim. You shall furnish to ONS all relevant information and cooperate with ONS. You shall immediately notify ONS in writing of any notice or knowledge of any claim of infringement of ONS Materials and cooperate with ONS and support ONS in its defense of such claim. You shall not settle a claim in any way that adversely affects ONS’s rights without ONS’s prior written consent.
9. Notices. You shall include the following in connection with its use of ONS Materials or such other notice as ONS may direct: “©20__ Reprinted with permission from the Oncology Nursing Society. All Rights Reserved.”
10. General. Excluding its conflicts of laws, Pennsylvania law governs these Terms and the use of ONS Materials. In any action to enforce these Terms, the federal and state courts in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania will have exclusive jurisdiction, and you waive objections to jurisdiction, venue, and inconvenience of forum for those actions. Permission is personal to you and may not be assigned or transferred by you to any other party, and any such assignment or transfer will be void; permission does not extend to any of your parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, divisions, branches, chapters, or other related organizations. These Terms are the complete and exclusive terms applicable to your permission and/or use of ONS Materials, superseding all other oral or written agreements relating thereto. ONS will not be bound by any terms, conditions, or warranties that purport to vary these Terms, including but not limited to any purchase order or other document you may issue, which will have no force and effect even if ONS accepts or does not otherwise reject such document. These Terms cannot be modified by printed or handwritten additions, changes, redlines or blacklines, or strikethroughs. ONS’s rights under these Terms may only be waived through a written document expressly waiving such rights.
